We need newspapers in a Free Society

BY RONALD COLLINS
First Amendment Center

A free press is one of the bulwarks of a free society. Without it, there can be no consent of the governed, no informed decision-making, and no check on the abuses of power. One of the vital roles of the press is to encourage citizens to participate in government by keeping them fully informed about life, law, politics, economics, and other things that matter. As the later Justice Potter Stewart put it in 1972: "Enlightened choice by an informed citizenry is the basic ideal upon which an open society is premised, and a free press is thus indispensable to a free society." Here are some examples — based on 8 Supreme Court cases — that illustrate these points:

New York Times v. Sullivan (1964)

Press freedoms must be strong, even in libel cases. As the Supreme Court declared in this landmark press case: "debate on public issues should be uninhibited, robust, and wide-open . . ."

Gertz v. Welch (1974)

Defamation laws notwithstanding, if the press is to serve its public role it must have wide latitude in reporting and commenting on public figures and on how what they do affects our society.

Near v. Minnesota (1931)

Getting the news to the people is so vital that under the First Amendment there can be no prior restraints on the right of the press to publish the news.

New York Times Co. v. United States (1971) (Pentagon Papers Case)

So important is the role of a press that even claims of national security seldom if ever justify bans on publishing sensitive stories concerning the workings of government.

Nebraska Press Association v. Stuart (1976)

Court orders prohibiting the press from reporting on public trials violate the First Amendment because they interfere with the public's right to receive information concerning the administration of justice.

Richmond Newspapers, Inc. v. Virginia (1980)

Private justice is no justice. That is why public and press access to criminal court trials must be safeguarded.

Smith v. Daily Mail Publishing Co. (1979)

Sometimes press rights and privacy rights collide. Even so, privacy concerns must yield whenever the press publishes truthful information about matters of public importance.

The Florida State Bar v. B.F.J. (1989)

The public's right to know about the workings of our criminal justice system is important. That is why the First Amendment protects the right of the press to publicize information contained in police reports even when that information concerns the victims of crime.

Forestry and Wildlife Field Day for Landowners, Hunters, Wildlife and Natural Resource Lovers

Landowners, hunters, wildlife and natural resource lovers are invited to attend a Forestry and Wildlife Field Day and Tour on Thursday, October 7, 2004 at Judd Brooke's Plantation on Ceasar/Necaise Road in Hancock County. Registration will begin at 2:30 p.m. at no cost. The tour will begin at 3 p.m. A catfish dinner will be provided.

This field day is also part of the Lower Coastal Plain Habitat Restoration: Invasive Species Management Tour for the Mid-South Invasive Species Alliance that will include State and Washington level decision makers regarding funding for invasive species. This is an opportunity for local landowners to discuss local concerns and issues regarding invasive species such as cogongrass, tall trees, etc. Your presence and input would be very valuable. Those officials would like to hear from you.

The tour will consist of four field stops and the following topics:

Cogongrass Control
Conversion of Slash and Loblolly to Longleaf Pine Longleaf Ecosystems and the Associated Plant Communities
Wildlife Benefits
Forest Management Techniques
Federal Cost Share Programs
New Technology in

Resource Management
Directions:
Ceasar/Necaise Road is located on Hwy 603 approximately 1 mile south of junction Hwy 53 & 603 in Hancock County. Go West toward Picayune on Ceasar/Necaise Road for two miles and turn right on Brookewood Drive. This is the driveway to field day parking.
Must RSVP by Monday, October 4 to Hancock County Extension Office at 228-467-5456.

E.C.O. Triathlon set for today in Bay St. Louis

The sunny shores of Bay St. Louis will be home to the 3rd Annual Da Beach House E.C.O. Triathlon scheduled for today Sunday, October 3. The Triathlon consists of a 2-mile kayak course, a 12-mile bike and a 3.1-mile run. Last year's event drew many athletes from the Southern Region and is co-sponsored by the Gulf Coast Running Club.

"The response was tremendous for the previous year's events and we expect it to grow as word gets out," says triathlon co-organizer Todd Read. "We have the perfect location here in Bay St. Louis and Waveland. The scenery is beautiful, the course is flat and the water relatively calm."

The triathlon course is designed to appeal to experienced and novice triathletes. The 2-mile kayak course begins and ends on the beach in Bay St. Louis, the bike portion extends down Beach Boulevard to Buccaneer State Park and back, and the 3.1-mile run traverses the beachside running path.

The event includes an adult competition with eight age groups, a relay competition and a youth competition with three age groups. The youth race, for age 12 and under, consists of a half-mile kayak, a 1-mile bike and a half-mile run.

Trophies will be awarded to the top overall male and female finishers in each category.

All participants will receive a race T-shirt and can take part in the post-race party on the beach.

Entertainment and food will be provided by local sponsors. Live Oak Yoga will provide yoga demonstrations before and after the event. Hairworks Massage will be on hand to assist the athletes in loosening up; and local favorites Baycity Grill, Trapani's, Sycamore House, Java Jean's, Dominos Pizza and Da Beach House will provide the eats. Other refreshments will be provided by Budweiser, Red Bull, Tegen Ice and Abita Springs.

The triathlon will take place in front of Da Beach House in Bay St. Louis at 604 South Beach Blvd. at the Washington Street intersection. For registration forms call 467-9477.

Kids Voting program expected to increase area voter turnout

THE SEA COAST ECHO

More than 30,000 students from grades K-12 in the three coastal counties are expected to cast their vote in the Presidential election November 2, according to officials with Kids Voting Mississippi (KVSM). And the good news is that they are bringing their parents with them.

"After 10 years in operation, we are seeing positive results," said John McFarland, volunteer chair of KVSM. "Voter turnout in the counties we serve now runs from 5% to 7% higher than the rest of the state," said McFarland. Local election officials credit much of that growth to the KVSM program.

Kids Voting includes classroom curricula, family activities for students, and culminates in the unique opportunity for students to go to the polls with their families and cast their votes. While student ballots do not affect the election's outcome, the ballots are counted by Kids Voting volunteers and reported by local media along with the "rear" results.

"Our objective is to help kids develop the voting habit early, so they continue to understand the imporance of voting throughout their lives," said McFarland. "If the kids want to go to the polls to vote, it helps increase adult voter turnout as well."

While the program requires students to go to the actual polls to vote, classroom instruction is vital to the program. All 12 school districts in Harrison, Hancock, and Jackson counties have a trained Kids Voting coordinator in charge of voting curricula. Training this year was attended by 67 teachers and school administrators.

"We had over 700 adult volunteers manning polls last year, and more than 80 companies, civic clubs, and church groups adopted polling places, McFarland said. "Since we are in all three coastal counties, even more volunteers are needed."

If you or your group wishes to help with Kids Voting in Hancock County, please call Volunteer Chair Randolph Bourgeois at (228) 467-7792.

Trial begins Tuesday for sheriff's undercover agent

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

The trial of an undercover Sheriff's officer is set to begin on Tuesday, October 5 at the Hancock County Justice Court.

The officer, whose name was not released due to the nature of his job, was arrested around 6 a.m. on Aug. 8, after two Hancock County Sheriff's deputies saw two cars engaged in a high speed pursuit down Highway 603.

The deputies pulled the cars over near Stennis Drive. Upon checking the vehicle, the deputies saw that the undercover officer appeared to have been in a fight, and said they smelled liquor on his breath.

The deputies placed him under arrest after the undercover officer refused an intoxication test. He was later charged with D.U.I., refused test, failure to yield to blue lights and siren, resisting arrest by flight, reckless driving and running a red light.

According to a press release issued by Sheriff Steve Garber, the undercover officer had been in poses-sion of a county vehicle at the time, and had allegedly been in a fight involving a knife and a gun prior to the chase.

Garber said the officer has been suspended, pending the outcome of the department's investigations.

"This type of activity will not be tolerated within the sheriff's department, and I assure the citizens of Hancock County that we will continue to provide aggressive drug enforcement throughout the county," Garber said.

D'head men face drug charges

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

Two Diamondhead residents were apprehended Thursday night following a transfer of marijuana, according to Sheriff Steve Garber.

"Trevor D. Farnsworth, 23, was arrested and allegedly charged with the sale of a controlled substance, (marijuana), while Jonathan Warren, 20, received a citation for the alleged possession of a small amount of marijuana, and both are of 'Diamondhead,' Major Matt Karl, Narcotic's Division director said.

Karl continued, "Farnsworth's bond was set at $25,000. Agents Chris Russell and Clifton (Bubba) Malley happened to have been in the area, a complaint was received from a business about suspicious people in the area. The agents set up and monitored the area and witnessed the sale of the marijuana."

Karl reported one of the reasons the agents were in the area, was because they had previously received reports of possible drug activities going on.

Agent Russell is in charge of the case and the investigation continues.

Assisting in making Agents Russell and Malley in making the arrest were Deputies Tim Campbell and Roger Estopinal.

Cruise into fun in Bay, Waveland

The long awaited "Cruisin' the Coast" week is here. This marks the 9th year for what is developing into one of the largest vintage car shows in the country.

A milestone this year will be the first official activities to take place in the City of Waveland for several days.

Historic Coleman Avenue, which has been the hub of the town going way back to when it became a city, will be the center of activity.

Bay St. Louis again will be having activities on Thursday, Friday and Saturday too, as well as Casino Magic.

On Friday and Saturday, Waveland will be a Pit Stop Venue with Coleman venue as a Burn Out Alley from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both days.

Bay St. Louis' entertainment scheduled on Thursday includes, 11 a.m. to noon, Eddie McDaniels; 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Startz; and 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Mustang Sally.

On Friday in Bay St. Louis scheduled is 11 a.m. to noon, Island of Rhythm; 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Curtis Coubella; and 3 p.m. to 4:40 p.m., Na Na Sha.

In Waveland on Friday, scheduled from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., a Seafood Broil at the beach stage; 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., a traditional lunch at the American Legion Hall on Coleman; and 5 p.m., a Drive-Inn Theatre parking opens (old Wal-Mart) parking lot on Highway 90.

I have been told that on Saturday, Waveland's American Legion will be offering one of the area's favorites for lunch, and that is Red Beans & Rice.

Saturday's entertainment scheduled in Bay St. Louis from 11 a.m. to noon, Prime Time; 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., Pat Murphy; and 3 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Vince Vance.

Downtown Bay St. Louis will once again have thousands of vehicles to view as they park along the area's streets.

Coleman Avenue area and the Legion's parking lot is another spot too to view the vintage vehicles.

Actually some of the events across the coast begins today, so many of the visitors from across the nation will be around the area for an entire week.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland's Coleman Avenue merchants should have many visitors to their many shops.

We all need to let the visitors know that we appreciate very much their coming to our communities.

Sure, we locals may have a few inconveniences, but Cruisin' the Coast is a great event and a very big economic booster for our businesses.

Have a great Cruisin' experience.

Bipartisan Intelligence Reform is vital

As a member of the Senate Intelligence Committee, I understand that America's intelligence system is basically a mechanism for saving lives by preventing attacks. So, it's clear our intelligence system failed us prior to 9/11 and afterward, including some prewar intelligence regarding Iraq.

For years Congress didn't adequately fund our intelligence-gathering apparatus, and, in turn, our intelligence services themselves failed - relying too much on technology rather than trained people. We don't have the number of skilled agents, proficient linguists and analysts that we need. Nor have we had a single leader in our intelligence community coordinating the dozens of intelligence operations America has. The National Intelligence Reform Act, now before the Senate, proposes three basic ways to correct our intelligence deficiencies and save innocent lives, all based on the bipartisan 9/11 Commission's recommendations.

Better Leadership: First, the proposal calls for a National Intelligence Director. For the first time, a National Intelligence Director would manage the country's intelligence gathering and serve as the President's chief intelligence advisor. This director will have budgetary and personnel authority, as well as be able, in consultation with the Defense Department, to direct or redirect some resources among our intelligence agencies when they are needed. No longer will agencies battle with one another over resources, wasting valuable time and energy with "in-house" political issues.

The confirmation of former Florida Congressman and, more importantly, former CIA agent, Porter Goss as CIA Director will prove to be another leadership improvement. Porter Goss has the practical, hands-on experience to reform the CIA and significantly improve the agency's human intelligence capability.

More Coordination: Second, it establishes a "National Intelligence Program." NIP's budget would include the CIA and

AARP opposed to Governor's Medicaid Waiver announcement

BY MATTIE T. STEVENS
AARP State Director

Governor Barbour's new Medicaid waiver is bad for the people of Mississippi. It does not solve the problems Governor Barbour says it solves, and it will not "wipe away the fears" of people who are losing needed help.

The governor claims that the waiver helps 17,000 people. But the bigger fact is that the waiver hurts 48,000 people who are not only losing all drug coverage, but all Medicaid services as well as coverage for Medicare premiums, deductibles, and copays. These are people with serious health problems like multiple Sclerosis, diabetes, lung disease, AIDS, and paraplegia.

Who will pay for their care now? Will doctors and hospitals be able to provide it for free? Or will they go without?

Even the 17,000 included in the waiver are losing coverage for:

- * Nursing home, home health, hospice and other long-term care services;
- * Special therapies that keep disabled people out of nursing homes so they can function in their own homes, and even stay on the job; and

- * Vision, dental, podiatric, and chiropractic care.

The governor's waiver is merely a band-aid that does not begin to cover the damages being done to some of Mississippi's most vulnerable people. It in no way replaces the comprehensive drug coverage these individuals urgently need. It is not enough to merely help people apply for drug-company charity programs that may not cover all the drugs they need or that may be discontinued at any time. The Medicare discount card provides some help, but it is hardly an adequate substitute for the comprehensive coverage that these people need.

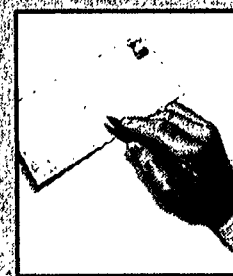

We know the legislature wants to address this issue now, but cannot do anything unless the governor calls a special session. Otherwise, nothing can be done until the legislature reconvenes in January. How many people will needlessly suffer between now and then?

The governor needs to call the legislature back now. Time is of the essence, and people hurting.

We got lucky with Hurricane Ivan

Isn't it funny how, when we make a wish and it's granted, we immediately make another?

Like so many wise Coastians, Dick and I evacuated when Hurricane Ivan seemed to be heading our way. Our first wish, when we returned home, was to find our house intact. It was, so our second wish was that the electric power would be on. It was, so we wandered around the yard wishing that it wouldn't be entirely covered by debris.

Well, it wasn't as bad as other storms we've experienced, but it was enough to give us a give stiff workout cleaning it up.

We Mississippi Coastians "dodged the bullet this time" (Don't you wish we had a dollar for every time we've read or heard that phrase in the last couple of weeks!), but even so, our streets were lined with debris for the next few days.

Kudos to the city of Waveland for its prompt and efficient pickup. You deserve -- and have -- our profound thanks.

several other non-military intelligence operations. This additional coordination will help direct valuable intelligence resources toward domestic homeland security efforts, which have taken center stage since 9/11.

Information Sharing: This plan also calls for the creation of a National Counter Terrorism Center that would coordinate joint operational planning among our intelligence agencies, enhancing communication and ensuring that agencies are not duplicating each other. Additionally it creates a Classification Review Board that will provide a check and balance regarding the type of information being classified. This will help Congress, too, by clarifying the way information is classified. Sometimes intelligence information is kept away, even from members of Congress, by a very dubious and whimsical classification process. This Board will ensure that, if at all possible, material be made available to those who need it. Additionally, the bill calls for the establishment of an information-sharing network, specifically to distribute information about terrorist threats through the appropriate federal, state and local agencies, as well as the private sector when applicable.

Though the Senate has failed to address pressing concerns this year like energy, highways and health care, the Senate, so far, has conducted the debate over national intelligence reform in a very constructive, progressive and matter-of-fact way. It must remain so, because good intelligence is about saving lives and preventing attacks. With terrorists trying their best to acquire nuclear, chemical and biological weapons to kill Americans, Congress must stay the bipartisan course with intelligence reform. Election year or no election year, terrorists are always plotting. The minute we fail to anticipate and counter their plots is the first minute of another 9/11 or much, much worse.

Taylor announces Academy Day

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor of Mississippi's Fourth Congressional District announced last week that his office will host its Thirteenth Annual Academy Day for any student grade 7 through 12 in the Fourth District who is interested in attending a United States Service Academy. The event will take place Saturday Oct. 9 at the Student Union Building of the University of Southern Mississippi located at 2701 Hardy Street in Hattiesburg. The day will begin with registration at 8 a.m. and end at noon.

There will be representatives from the Air Force, Coast Guard, Merchant Marine, Military, and Naval academies. ROTC representatives will also be available. Students will have opportunities to speak with these representatives to gain a better understanding of what it means to be educated through the military.

"It is never too early to start looking at an academy. These institutions offer the best education and training in the world. While serving your country you will gain skills and knowledge that will not only help defend the nation but be an asset to you for the rest of your life," said Taylor. "I encourage any student to attend this event if they are considering an academy or ROTC program as an option after high school. It will help answer any questions that students and parents may have."

If you would like more information on Academy Day or on the nomination process, you may contact Mrs. Jerry Martin, a Congressman Taylor' Hattiesburg Office at 601 582-3246.

Warriors defeat brave Hawks 41-6

BY DWAYNE BREMER

Contributing Writer

The Hawks played short-handed Friday night, as they were without three starters on defense. Brently Necaise, Alex Toups, and E.J. Jarvis were all sidelined for the game. The Hawks went on to lose 41-6 to the 10th ranked Oak Grove Warriors, but the Hawks did perform well at times.

The Hawks picked up 15 first downs in the game to the Warriors seven.

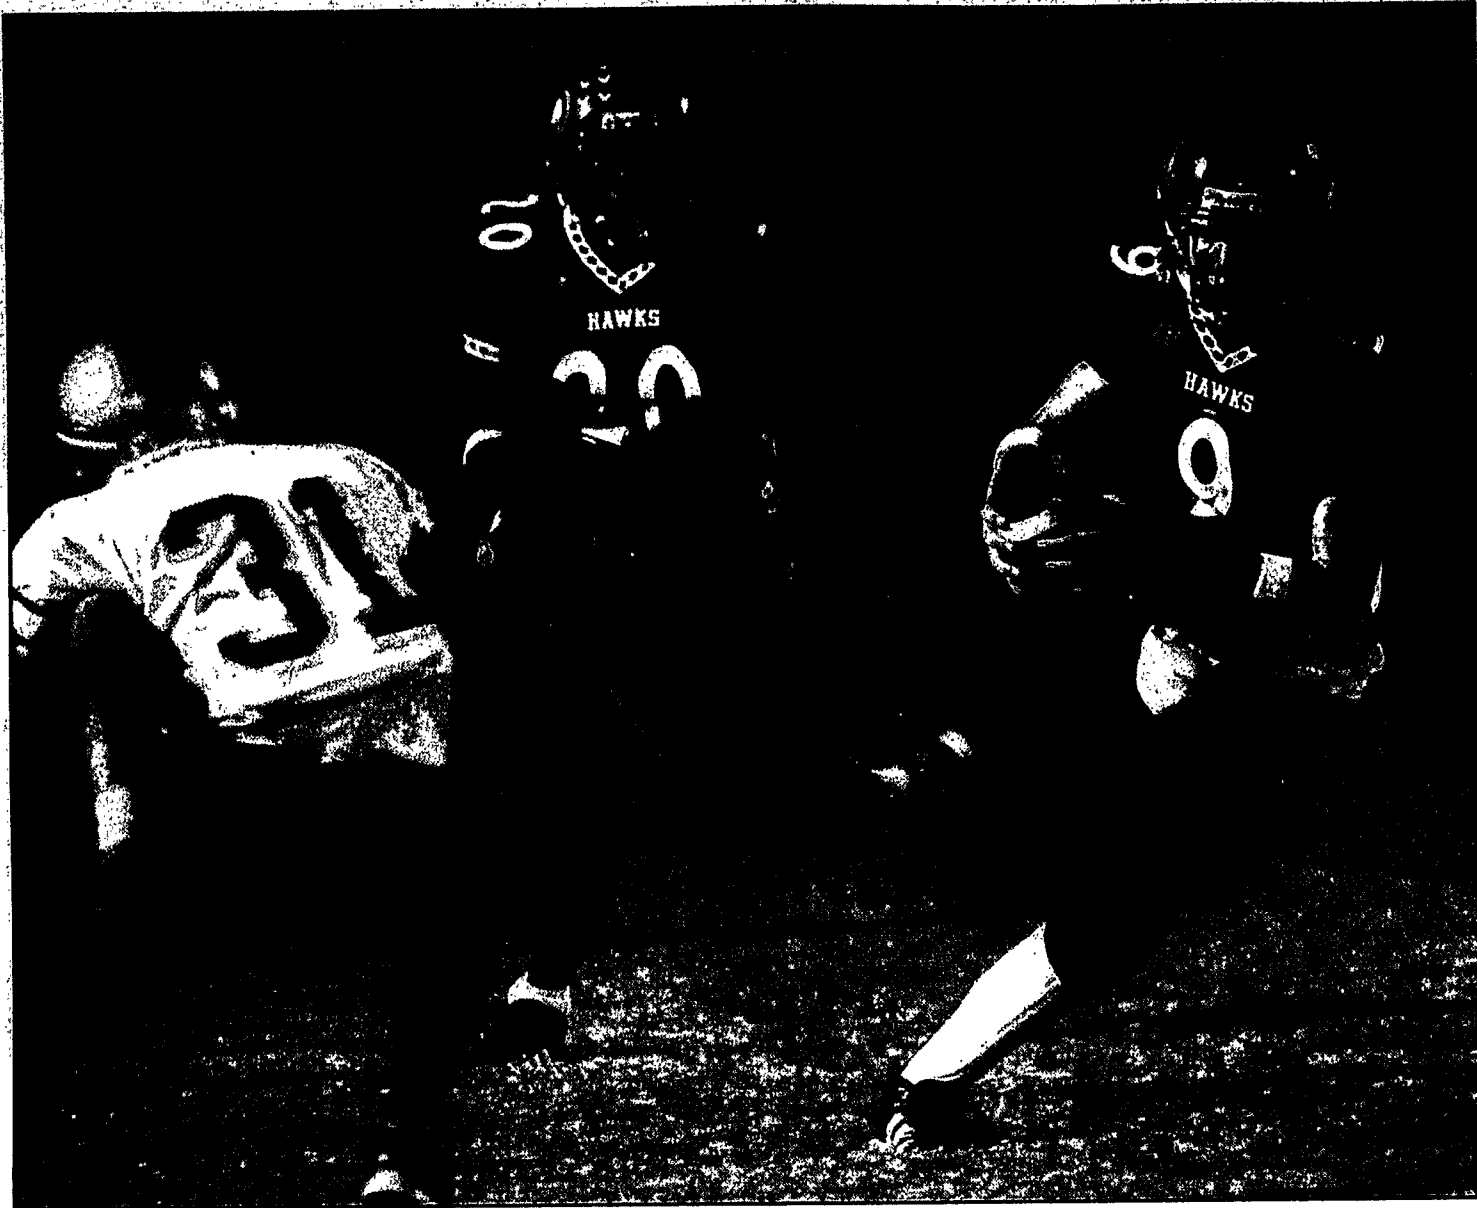

Necaise ran for 60 yards on 20 carries, Fairley collected 77 yards on 19 carries, and Thomas picked up 55 yards on 16 rushes.

"The guys played well in some areas. The offensive line was excellent tonight. I thought that Travis Hall and Scott Nesom played a great game, and Braxton Necaise had his best game as quarterback," said Hawks head coach Walt Esslinger.

The Warriors scored early and often in the first half, as Harrington connected with Ricky Smith on a 30-yard touchdown strike. Taylor Lovitt added the point after, and the Warriors led 7-0, with 8:59 to play in the first.

The Warriors struck on their next possession as Headrick Levasette ran in a 20-yard run. The point after failed, and the Warriors led 13-0.

The Hawks took over at the 20, and began to move ball. Necaise hit Mark Fairley for an 11-yard gain, and Chase Mciver had a five-yard run. Necaise then threw again, but Doug Young intercepted the ball and returned it 48 yards for a Warriors touchdown. The extra point gave the Warriors a 20-0 lead, with 2:49 to go in the first quarter.

The Hawks took over after the kickoff, and put together their best drive of the season. The Hawks kept the ball of 19 plays, and over nine minutes of the clock as they drove 80-yards for a score.

The Hawks converted three fourth downs on the drive. Necaise rushed six times for 21-yards on the drive including a nice six-yard scramble on a fourth and four. Mark Fairley had runs of eight, nine and eleven and Necaise capped the drive with a four-yard touchdown run. The point after failed, and with 4:41 to play in the second the Hawks closed the gap to 20-6.

The Warriors quickly moved the inside the Hawks 20, as Harrington connected on two long passes. The Hawks would catch a break when Kevin Lafontaine recovered a fumble at the eighteen.

The Hawks could not do anything with the turnover, and were forced to punt the ball back to the Warriors with just under two minutes in the half.

It only took the Warriors four plays to reach the end zone. Harrington found Drew Eizell for a 13-yard touchdown, and the Warriors led 27-6 just seconds to play in the half.

It only took the Warriors

two plays to score to start the second half.

Levarette ran for 33 yards and then scored on a 20-yard run. The point after made the score 34-6 with 11:27 to play in the half.

The Hawks took over at the 20, and once again went on a time consuming drive. The Hawks picked up three first downs behind the running of Ronnie Thomas and Necaise. Thomas had a 13-yard run and a nine-yard run on the drive and Necaise had runs of 3,7,4, and 5.

The drive stalled at the 36, and the Warriors took over.

The warriors looked to score again, as Harrington hit Smith down the left side. Smith ran the ball down to the three-yard line, but Justin Kopf forced a fumble, and the ball rolled out of bounds in the end zone for a touchback.

The Hawks took over at the 20, but Necaise threw an interception to Young.

Young took the ball back to the Hawks four, and Harrington ran in the score from there. The extra point gave the Warriors a 41-6 lead with 2:46 to play in the third quarter.

The Hawks offensive kept the ball for most of the fourth quarter, as the Hawks churned out first downs.

Two fumbles ended Hawk drives, as the Hawks were not able to punch in any more points. The Hawks a fumble late in the quarter, as Tim Schaffer pounced on a loose ball to stop a Warriors possession. The game ended 41-6.

The Hawks will travel to Northwest Rankin next Friday.

Gators stall Tigers comeback despite valiant effort

BY MAURICE SINGLETON

Contributing Writer

The stage was set for a fairy tale ending for Bay High on Friday night, but in the end the Tigers' offense sputtered as the hosting Gautier Gators savored the taste of a 22-17 homecoming win in Pascagoula on Friday evening.

The Tigers made a valiant effort to overcome first half turnovers and missed opportunities, as the defense denied the Gators the thrills of the end zone in the second half, including a late fourth quarter drive that ended at the Tigers' 17 yardline.

On fourth down with pressure at the line of scrimmage from Steven Dauenhauer, Kadeem Perkins, Brad Ladner, Trevor Adam, Jake Johnson and Kyle Moran and tight coverage in the secondary, the Tigers forced Gators' quarterback Julius Blanks out of the pocket struggling to find an open receiver. His pass attempt fell incomplete and the Tigers took over on downs with 4:54 remaining on the game clock.

On first down, Tigers' quarterback Corbin Blaize was sacked for a 9-yard loss. A screen pass to Lorenzo Lewis yielded 7 yards on second down. But on third down, Blaize's pass along the Tigers' sideline tipped off the hands of the Gators' defender and fell directly into the hands of Dauenhauer for a 15 yard gain and a first down.

Antonio Hawkins found a lane for 9 yards on first down. Facing fourth and one, Hawkins broke free for 8 yards to the Tigers 46 yardline. But that was as close as the Tigers would get as the Tigers' drive ended with three incomplete passes and a sack on fourth down.

"I'm proud of the guys the way they came out in the second half and didn't quit," said Tigers coach Brennan Compretta. "All of our guys played real hard."

"I feel like we could have won this one. We gave them too many opportunities in the first half."

The Tigers took the early lead as Moran capped the 90-yard opening drive with a 27-yard field goal. The Tigers appeared to have the Gators' defensive number as Hawkins broke free for runs of 9, 14, 14 and 11 yards and Blaize connected with Ladner for a 32-yard pass play.

Robert Labat thwarted the Gators opening drive with an interception of Blanks in the end zone returned to the Tigers 20 yardline. But on the very next play, Hawkins fumbled and the Gators recovered with excellent field position at the Tigers' 20 yardline. Two plays later, on the first play of the second quarter, Blanks found John Welch for the touchdown. Edwin Miskel lined up in the shotgun and tossed a over the snapper for the 2-point conversion. The Gators led 8-3.

The Tigers got a turnover of their own on the Gators next possession as the Tigers recovered a Blanks fumble at the Gators 7 yardline. On third down Blaize found Ladner just across the goal and the Tigers led 10-8 following Moran's PAT kick.

The Tigers got their third turnover of the first half just five plays later as Labat intercepted his second pass of the night at the Bay High 11-yardline. But the Tigers offense failed to pick up a first down setting up one of Moran's best punts of the season - if not the best - a 48-yarder, fielded at the home team's 33 yardline.

The Gators were poised. With just under over two minutes to play in the first half, Blanks made two huge pass plays, a 42-yarder, then a 25-yarder to Miskel for the touchdown to regain the lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Labat fielded the kickoff at his own 8 yardline and returns it the 14 where he is hit solid and the ball is knocked loose. Gautier recovers with 1:17 remaining before halftime. Blanks completed an 11-yard pass play to Miskel to the 3 yardline, and kept up the middle to put the game out of the reach of the Tigers at 2-10 going into halftime.

Blaize connected with Ladner early in the fourth quarter for a 5-yard touchdown reception and the Tigers close in on the Gators at 22-17 following Moran's PAT kick.

On the night, Hawkins rushed for 130 yards on 22 carries. Blaize completed 10 of 23 passes for 131 yards, 2 touchdowns and 2 interceptions. Ladner had four receptions for 50 yards and 2 touchdowns. Lewis had three receptions for 62 yards. Dauenhauer had three receptions for 26 yards.

The Tigers are 4-2 (1-1, district) after Friday's loss at Gautier. The Tigers play at d'Iberville next Friday.

Rocks bully Vancleave 49-21; Cure sets all-time record

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws (4-1) improved to 2-0 in Division 8-4A behind an impressive 49-21 whipping of the Vancleave Bulldogs (4-2, 1-2) on the road Friday night.

The Rocks' offense rolled behind the record-setting performance of Mike Cure and the running of Josh Duplessis. Cure caught 6 passes for 146 yards and a score which moved him to the top of the all-time receiving yardage list at SSC with 1,442 yards. He eclipsed the record set by Gabe Willis of 1,366. Cure commented, "I give the credit to the entire offense for this record. We play football as a team and the team helped me get this honor. The record is as much the entire offense's as it is mine."

Duplessis turned in a 190-yard performance on 15 carries and scored twice.

The Rocks scored five first half touchdowns to bolt out to a 35-7 halftime lead.

SSC got the ball to start the game and wasted no time getting in the endzone. Lance Cuevas came out slinging the football and connected with Cure for a 7-yard gain. Two plays later, the duo connected again for a 49-yard gain down to the Bulldog 6 yardline. Lee Klein did the rest of the work smashing across the goaline from 6 yards out with 10:10 remaining in the first quarter. Bryce Morreale connected on the PAT to make the score 7-0.

The Rock defense stiffened on the Bulldogs' first possession led by Klein, Jordan Ellis and Stefan Sofianos. The Bulldogs were forced to punt away.

A botched punt gave the Rocks the ball at the Bulldog 38 yardline. After a sack by the Bulldogs, Duplessis broke free for a 29-yard gain and Rock first down. Two plays later, Cuevas hooked up with Sofianos for a 19-yard score with 4:38 left in the first quarter. Morreale booted the PAT to make the score 14-0.

Vancleave had to punt away on their ensuing possession and the Rocks took over at their own 40 yardline. Cuevas connected with Floyd Dedeaux and Sofianos for gains of 16 and 7 yards before minimal gains forced SSC into a punting situation. Cure booted the ball that was downed at the Bulldog 2 yardline.

Two plays into the drive, Vancleave fumbled the ball away and Zack Elkins returns the fumble two yards for the Rock score with 10:46 left in the first half. Morreale connects on the PAT giving the Rocks a 21-0 lead.

Mike Deifik, Brennan Gordon and Cure put the pressure on the Bulldogs' offense and forced Vancleave into a punting situation. However, two SSC penalties give Vancleave new life and first down.

The Bulldogs were unable to move the ball forward and were whistled for a penalty that called for another punt formation. A fumbled return on the punt was recovered by Vancleave at the Rock 28 yardline.

Two consecutive passes by Brad Madden to Mark McKinley for 16 and 15 yards lit up the scoreboard for Vancleave. McKinley caught a 15-yard scoring pass with 5:16 left before halftime. Trey Read connected on the PAT to make the score 21-7.

The Rocks took over on the ensuing possession at their own 20 yardline. Duplessis ripped off two 40-yard runs on the drive with the second one adding another score on the board with 3:02 left before halftime. Morreale added the PAT to make the score 28-7.

Vancleave tried to pass on their next possession but Madden was flushed out of the pocket consistently by Gordon and J. C. Brignone. The Bulldogs punted away to the Rocks.

Duplessis exploded for a 17-yard gain followed by a 63-yard strike from Cuevas to Cure with :56 left before halftime. Morreale's PAT made the score 35-7 at halftime.

The touchdown catch by Cure was the pass that set the new mark for all-time receiving yards at SSC.

Vancleave got the ball to start the second half but were unable to move the pigskin. The Bulldogs punted away to the Rocks. However, SSC was intercepted on their second play of the half.

Vancleave took over at their own 47 yardline and orchestrated a productive drive that resulted in a 3-yard scoring plunge by Matt Sloan with 7:24 left in the third quarter. Read's PAT made the score 35-14. The score was set up by two 12-yard pass plays from Madden to McKinley.

SSC recovered a Vancleave onside kick at their own 47 yardline. The Rocks mixed up the offense during the seven-play drive with Duplessis carrying for 12 yards and Cuevas connecting with Sofianos and Cure for gains of 8 and 16 yards.

Duplessis finished off the drive with a 14-yard score with 5:04 left in the third quarter. Morreale booted the PAT to make the score 42-14.

Each team traded two possessions each before the Rocks capitalized. SSC scored with 11:05 left in the game when Cuevas found Brennen Thomas for a 7-yard score. Morreale's PAT was good making the score 49-14.

Vancleave answered on their ensuing 6-play drive with a 22-yard scoring pass from Madden to McKinley with 8:21 left in the game. Read connected on the PAT to make the final score of 49-21.

The two teams traded the next two possessions each before Michael Cure stopped the Bulldogs last chance at a score with a 74-yard interception return to the Vancleave seven yardline. SSC ran the clock out to seal the win.

SSC head coach Casey Wittmann stated, "We played a very fine Vancleave football team tonight. They got after us all night. Our players have set some goals for the season and as they get closer and closer to their goals, their intensity increases. We have to hit the practice field very hard this week to prepare for Pass Christian. It will be an intense rival game for both schools."

The Rocks racked up 309 total yards by halftime and finished the game with 436 total yards. The Rock defense held the Bulldogs to just 70 yards rushing for the game and allowed 272 yards total.

Lance Cuevas threw for 246 yards on 13-of-22 passing with three touchdowns and two picks. Defensively, the Rocks were led by Ellis and Klein with 14 total tackles each. The defensive front of Brignone, Gordon and McQueen pressured the quarterback and were in the Bulldog backfield most of the game.

SSC plays host to the Pass Christian Pirates this Friday, October 8. The Pirates lost on Friday night to the D'Iberville Warriors.

St. Stanislaus will pay tribute to former athletic greats Doc Blanchard, J.E. Loiacano, Curtis St. Mary, Stephen Peterman and the 1938 football team with their induction to the "Great Wall of Rocks" prior to the game. The honorees will be presented to the crowd at halftime.

Game time is set for 7pm 'in between the walls' at the Brother Phillip Memorial Athletic Complex.

Late turnovers cost Pirates in loss to D'Iberville

BY STEVE SMITH
Contributing Writer

The Pass High Pirates celebrated Homecoming Friday, entertaining the D'Iberville Warriors at MacDonald Field, losing 31 to 14. The Pirates played the Warriors even for most of the contest, but turnovers cost them dearly late in the game.

With D'Iberville winning the toss the Pirates Brett Sanders sent the kickoff through the Pirate endzone for a touchback and the Warriors set their offense at the 20-yardline, but were forced to punt after three downs.

The Pirates likewise went three-and-out, but the Warriors needed only two plays to cover the 70 yards to the Pirate endzone on their next possession. Austin Holley slipped through the Pirate line and outran the pursuit, going 57 yards to score. Jeff Kovacevich's PAT kick made the score 7 to 0.

Brandon Riley returned the D'Iberville Kickoff to the Pirate 43-yardline, but the Pirate offense sputtered and Chad Moore's third-and-eighteen pass was intercepted. This turnover, although it gave the warriors a first down at their 47-yardline, didn't damage the Pirate's cause because Jonathan Willis intercepted a Jake Olier pass six plays later, giving the Pirates a first down at their own 5-yardline.

What followed were the finest moments of the evening for the Pirate offense, as Chad Moore and company drove 95 yards in 15 plays for a touchdown and PAT to even the score at 7 to 7. Key plays in the drive included a 16-yard completion to Brandon Miller for a first down when the Pirates had their backs to the wall at their 10-yardline. Jaren Bowser accounted for 62 yards on that drive including 23 yards on a screen play that set up a first and goal at the Warrior nine.

The Warrior offense came up with a big play just before the half ended, a 38-yard pass from Olier to Cody Rooney that put the Warriors ahead 14 to 7 with a good PAT kick.

The Warriors ran the score to 21 to 7 when a poor Pirate punt gave them a first down at the Pass 33-yardline. Using eight plays the Warriors scored on a plunge by running back Leonard McMurriahn.

A nice kickoff return by Donovan Fairley nearly went for a score, but Fairley lost the handle and the Warriors recovered, managing to increase the lead with a field goal to make the score 24 to 7.

The Pirates got on the board again with a Chad Moore Pass to Jaren Bowser for 25 yards to get the Pirates closer at 24 to 14 with 3:44 left to play. Good defense by the Pirates got the ball back shortly but an interception returned for a touchdown by Jordan Bennet put the game out of reach for the Pirates with the score at 31 to 14 and only a minute to play.

The Pirates rushed for 93 yards, passed for 129 yards and had 11 first downs, but lost two fumbles and had two passes intercepted. The Pirates gave up 219 yards rushing and 78 in the air while allowing the Warriors 14 first downs. The Pirates face rival St. Stanislaus next Friday at the Rock, before returning to their home field October 15 to face East Central.

Hancock County area athletics roundup

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws junior varsity and 9th grade teams hit the road on Monday, September 27 to D'Iberville and split a pair of games.

The JV Rocks shutout the Warriors 21-0. David Grapusa, Chad Boos and Ryan Ray all scored rushing touchdowns and Matt Kivlan booted three PATs.

The 9th grade Rocks were blanked 21-0 by the Warriors.

On Monday, September 20th, the junior varsity Rocks defeated the Bay High Tigers 25-8. Dusty Hoffpauir scored twice while Chad Boos and Eric Lichenstein each crossed the goaline once. Matt Kivlan added a PAT and Ryan Ray eclipsed the century mark rushing.

The 9th grade Rocks were shutout by the Tigers 24-0. Scoring details for the Tigers were not available.

The junior high Hancock Hawks split a pair of games with the Pearl River Central Blue Devils last week.

The Hancock seventh grade team (1-1) defeated PRC 24-6. Adrain Whavers scored twice on the ground on runs of 1 and 2 yards. Ethan Ball added a scoring run of 5 yards and Keagan Gillihan exploded for a 50-yard quarterback keeper.

Austin Seymour led a swarming Hawk defense that allowed just one score.

The eighth grade Hawks (0-2) fell to the Blue Devils 14-6.

Josh Jackson scored on a 1-yard run for Hancock. Josh Potter led a pesky bunch of Hawks on defense.

The St. Stanislaus swim team hit the pool on Wednesday, September 22nd after a layoff due to Hurricane Ivan.

The Rocks took on Picayune and Gulfport in a double-dual meet. SSC outscored the Gulfport Admirals 92-51 but were sunk by Picayune 100-56.

First place finishers for SSC were Christopher Donahue in the backstroke and Christian Walter in the breaststroke. Both swimmers also qualified for the state meet in 500-yard freestyle and the 200-yard freestyle, respectively.

Other state qualifiers were Freddie Kippes in the 50-yard freestyle, Allston Lumpkin in the 100-yard butterfly, Evan Magers in the 50-yard freestyle and 100-yard breaststroke, Sherman Necaise in the 200-yard IM and 100-yard freestyle, and Stephen Stanley in the 50-yard freestyle.

On September 26th, the SSC cross country team participated in the Biloxi Invitational Meet at Hiller Park.

Bobby Nilson placed second overall in the meet with a time of 18:17 on the 3-mile Programs meet Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Public Library; Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m. at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library; and Thursdays at 10:30 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library.

Weekly story hours are held September through May. Programs last approximately one half hour, depending upon subject matter and planned activity.

For individual branch story hour information, contact Jamie Elston, Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, 467-5282; Sandra Ladner, Kiln Public Library, 255-1724; or Karen Cotton, Waveland Public Library, 467-9240.

Boil water notice at Jourdan River Shores

Total Environmental Solutions Inc. issued a (Boil Water) notice for people who live in the Jourdan River Shores Subdivision in Hancock County. The system lost pressure due to mechanical failure at the well. These precautions should be taken until public notice is given.

Steve Jones Manager of Operations for the water system, said this precautionary action is necessary whenever a public water system loses pressure for any reason.

When a distribution loses pressure, contaminants can siphon back into the system. Public health officials consider any system that has lost pressure contaminated until test of the water prove otherwise. As soon as pressure is restored to those customers affected, water system officials will begin collecting water samples for testing.

When pressure is restored, officials recommend that customers vigorously boil for one minute any water to be consumed. Users will be notified when test show the water is safe.

Crossley to address Pass Christian artists

The Pass Christian Art Association will have its monthly meeting Saturday, October 16, at 2 p.m. in the Pass Christian Library Community Room. The featured artist will be Charles R. Crossley of the Studio of Art and Design, McComb, MS. He will give a lecture and demonstration on Mixed Media and Collage Techniques and will use a number of his works for illustration.

Mr. Crossley, a native of Pike County, served for nine years in the Navy and was stationed in San Diego. He received a BA in Fine Arts and has the equivalent of a MA in Fine Arts and Commercial Art from the Coronado School of Fine Art. He taught art at San Diego Community College for 21 years and has been teaching art for 41 years. He returned to McComb in 1993 and teaches at Venman Junior High school. In 2000 he was commissioned by the Mississippi State Heritage Trust to do a study and a painting of Prentiss Institute, an historic black school.

Members of the public are welcome to attend. There is no charge. For information, call Ernie Allison at (228) 452-4188.

SBA Disaster Loans not just for businesses

The U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the Mississippi Emergency Management Agency (MEMA) want to remind hurricane Ivan victims that low-interest loans from the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) are available for residents and businesses in Clarke, George, Greene, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Lauderdale, Perry, Stone and Wayne Counties.

The SBA is the federal government's primary resource for long-term disaster recovery financing. Through its disaster loan program, the SBA provides affordable, timely, and accessible assistance to homeowners, renters and businesses who experienced damages and losses in the affected areas. In fact, 80 percent of all SBA disaster assistance is currently made to homeowners.

Homeowners and renters, can use their SBA disaster loans to repair or replace uninsured or underinsured flood-damaged personal property, while homeowners can receive help with repair or replacement of their primary residence. The loan terms are designed to be affordable, with terms that can go up to 30 years and interest rates as low as 3.187 Percent for homeowners and renters and 2.900 percent for businesses.

State Coordinating Officer Mike Womack said the loan amount would be based on the actual cost of repairing a resident's damaged home and personal property, minus any insurance settlements or other reimbursements or grants within SBA lending limits.

It is important that those who receive an SBA application fill it out and return it as quickly as possible, even if they are not interested in a loan.

"Individuals who do not qualify for SBA loans may be referred to other available disaster aid programs," federal Coordinating Officer Scott Wells said. "This may include grants to help pay for temporary housing, home repairs and other serious disaster-related expenses."

Businesses of tiny size may also be eligible for disaster loans to repair or replace machinery, equipment, and inventory not covered by insurance. Eligible small businesses may also apply for working capital funds to help cover necessary and on-going expenses during the disaster recovery period.

Current loan limits are as follows:

- Homeowners - Up to $200,000 to repair or rebuild a primary residence to its predisaster condition.

- Homeowners and renters - Up to $40,000 to repair/replace personal property such as clothing, furniture and automobiles.

- Businesses - Up to $1.5 million to repair or replace damaged facilities, business contents and working capital.

Residents and business owners in the disaster-designated counties who haven't applied for assistance can register by calling 1-800-621-FEMA (3362) or 1-800-462-7585 (TTY) for the hearing and speech impaired. The lines are open 24-hours, daily.

On March 1, 2003, FEMA became part of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. FEMA's continuing mission with in the new department is to lead the effort to prepare the nation for all hazards and effectively manage federal response and recovery efforts following any national incident. FEMA also initiates proactive mitigation activities, trains first responders, and manages the National Flood Insurance Program and the U.S. Fire Administration.

BUSINESS NEWS

Casino Magic celebrates 12th anniversary

Twelve years after initiating what is now the standard in dockside gaming, the concept of gaming building a casino on a floating barge, Casino Magic Bay St.

Louis celebrates its twelve-year anniversary on September 30th.

You may be aware that Casino Magic Bay St. Louis was the first casino in Hancock County and is currently the only casino in the county, but did you know that Casino Magic Bay St. Louis was the first barge-concept casino in the entire world? When dockside gaming was passed in Mississippi in 1990, the law mandated that gaming had to be over water, and the first casinos were on riverboats. Casino Magic Bay St. Louis interpreted that law in a different manner and took the lead in setting out to develop dockside gaming with an innovative approach.

Casino Magic Bay St. Louis has created over 1,300 jobs, raised tax revenues and boosted local business and tourism in Hancock County. Casino Magic customers do not just stay and play at Casino Magic. They eat in downtown restaurants. They shop with local merchants. They tell family and friends about the area, and they come back again and again.

Annually, the casino contributes millions of dollars to Hancock County for property and gaming taxes, to the Bay/Waveland School District, and to the State of Mississippi for gaming, sales and use taxes.

Casino Magic Bay St. Louis contributes hundreds of thousands of dollars to the community through donations and sponsorships. Organizations that have benefited directly from Casino Magic's donations and team member volunteerism include the United Way, Hope Haven Children's Shelter, The Boys and Girls Club of South Mississippi, March of Dimes, and many others. Team members actively serve on the boards of the directors for the Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, Mississippi Gulf Coast Gaming Association, the Mississippi Gulf Coast Economic Development Council, and the Bay St. Louis ARTS Council.

Additionally, casino team members are often involved in community service. Each Thanksgiving, management gives turkeys to team members. Often, in turn, team members donate their turkeys to less fortunate families in the county. There is even a committee comprised exclusively of team members who work on team member events, which covers everything from company picnics to the annual Team Extravaganza.

Penn National Gaming Inc. acquired Casino Magic Bay St. Louis on August 8, 2000, and has invested over $40 million developing the 600-acre casino resort. The resort now includes the state's only on-site Arnold Palmer golf course, a 100-site RV park, two hotels, a 22,500 sq. ft. entertainment complex, five restaurants, a spa and over 1200 slot machines and 30 table games. The most recent improvement includes a complete remodel of the casino's high limit slot area, which will open Friday, October 1st.

For those not familiar with Casino Magic Bay St. Louis, the resort is situated on the Bay of St. Louis, encompassing a 39,500 square foot casino, The Bridges Golf Club, a product of the Arnold Palmer Design Group, and the only course of its kind in Mississippi. In addition, resort amenities include: the Bay Tower Hotel, Casino Magic Inn, Spa at the Bay®, and over 35,000 sq. ft. of meeting space. Casino Magic offers a total of approximately 500 hotel rooms and big name entertainers monthly including jazz legend, Pete Fountain, every Tuesday and Wednesday night.

"I'm Not Your Momma" wins multiple awards

The Mississippi Department of Transportation's (MDOT) catchy "I'm Not Your Mama! Pick it Up!" litter prevention campaign is returning this fall to sweep through the schools of Mississippi with the highly acclaimed, kid-friendly Myrtle the Turtle educational program, according to State Anti-Litter Coordinator Kathy Broom.

Not only is "I'm Not Your Mama" back, it's back with a most impressive selection of state, regional, and national awards. The top national awards, include the 2004 Excel Award given by the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials' Subcommittee on Public Affairs and the 2003 Rogers Award given by Keep America Beautiful.

The commanding "I'm Not Your Mama! Pick it Up!" message, which emphasizes personal responsibility and teamwork, has received an overwhelmingly positive response from children, which is most important to Broom, a former elementary teacher. "They are glued to the animated video starring 'Myrtle the Turtle' and can't wait to recite the Litter Patrol Pledge to help keep Mississippi clean and beautiful, which is reinforced by their receiving an official MDOT Litter Patrol badge."

Broom believes education is the key to preventing litter and even to changing the litter habit in adults, especially with the help of the children - our future. "We listen to our 'mamas,' but our children can do a good job to teach us, as well. By working with our youth, MDT hopes to make a difference that will have lasting benefits for generations to come."

With the aid of Mode's anti-litter coordinators throughout the state, the Myrtle the Turtle puppets, and the many supportive materials, the approximate 30-minute presentation reinforces the "I'm Not Your Mama" message that was made famous by Mississippi's former First Lady Pat Force in the MDT public service announcements.

Leo Seal Teacher Award nomination forms available

Applications for the 2005 Leo W. Seal Teacher Recognition Awards - cash grants and limited-edition pewter sculptures lauding teaching excellence in South Mississippi - are currently available at all Hancock Bank Mississippi branches.

Parents, students, peers, administrators, and individuals interested in honoring an educator's superior commitment to learning may nominate any currently certified K-12 teacher employed by public school districts in Forrest, Hancock, Harrison, Jackson, Jefferson Davis, Lamar, and Pearl River counties in Mississippi. Eligible teachers may also nominate themselves. Each of the five teachers chosen for a Seal award wins a one-time $1,000 class project grant funded by Hancock Bank and a pewter apple handcrafted exclusively for Hancock Bank by John Cannon of Ballard Pewter, Ltd., in Ocean Springs. The deadline to submit nominations is November 15, 2004. Nominated teachers must submit a brief letter of intent by December 15, 2004, describing proposed initiatives to be funded by the Seal award grants. Based on those letters of intent, a representative selection committee will choose a limited number of nominees to complete full application forms by March 1, 2005. Final selections for the award are slated for early spring 2005.

The awards commemorate the leadership and achievements of the late Leo W. Seal, Sr., Hancock Bank president from 1932 until his death in 1963, and his son, current Hancock Holding Company chairman Leo W. Seal, Jr., in facilitating economic growth and educational opportunities across the region. The Gulf Coast Community Foundation (GCCF) manages the endowment as a permanent fund of the GCCF's Pat Santucci Friends of Public Education program.

Last year's Seal award winners were Nancy L. Hunter of Biloxi's Gorenflo Elementary School; Susan B. Spiers of South Side Lower Elementary School in Piquette; and Joan J. Breazeale, Ann Randle, and Nancy N. Ratcliff, all of East Hancock Elementary School in Kiln.

Founded in 1899, Hancock Bank consistently ranks among America's strongest, safest financial institutions and is listed on the Mississippi Governor's Honor Roll of Outstanding Partners in Education. Additional corporate information and online banking and bill pay services are available at www.hancock-bank.com.

Teacher award

The Leo W. Seal awards recognize teaching excellence in South Mississippi and supports value-added educational experiences for students across the region. Each award includes a $1,000 project grant and a pewter apple sculpture handcrafted by John Cannon of Ballard Pewter, Ltd., in Ocean Springs. Nomination forms are available at any Hancock Bank Mississippi branch until the November 15, 2004, deadline.

ers."

This year, Longo said, Waveland has set aside a section of its streets for a "burnout" track.

"We have an area on the course that we've safely designated for the cars to kind of show off their muscle," Longo said. One of those things about those older cars is that they're muscle cars. The owners took a lot of care in their restoration."

Longo said that there would be several other events lined up for the Waveland venue, including a seafood broil sponsored by Lil' Ray's from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and a drive-in movie on Friday and Saturday night a 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

"We have a few special events. We have the advantage of experimentation from other communities. We know what they like and don't like," Longo said.

Mickey Lagasse, Hancock

County building official, said he had been trying to arrange for a drive-in movie during Cruisin' the Coast for years.

Lagasse said the films will be shown in the old Wal-Mart parking lot. He stressed that it was not intended to be a Cruisin'-only event.

"We want as many residents as we can get," Lagasse said. "As much fun as Cruisin' is, the local residents get inconvenienced. We're hoping that the drive-in can be our way of saying thank you."

Lagasse said that the films would be shown on a giant screen over the parking lot, and the audio tracks would be broadcast over a radio station that moviegoers could tune into.

Lagasse said that he wanted to keep the two films secret for now, but added that they would be classics from the drive-in age. Admission will be $5 per car, no matter how many occupants.

Kathy Pinn, president of the Coleman Avenue Coalition and owner of That Cute Little Shoppe, said that Waveland merchants were looking forward to the crowds.

"We're hoping it brings a lot of people down. Coleman Avenue has a lot to offer. We have some of the best restaurants and stores, and I think I have one of the cutest shops."

Pinn said that the entire town was working hard to make this year's Cruisin' the best yet.

"The mayor and the city are working really hard. Everyone's getting ready. We're going to have 50s music, and be dressed like it was the 50s. We're ready to have a good time with the cruisers."

Cruisin' street closing plan

WAVELAND

Beach Boulevard, from Lafitte Dr. to St. Joseph St., will be open to cruisers only.

St. Joseph St. will be open for 1-way traffic from the beach to the tracks.

Central Ave. will be open for two way traffic (one way for cruisers).

Coleman Ave. will be open to cruisers only.

Lafitte Dr. will be open to cruisers and residents only.

All parts of beach boulevard not mentioned will be open for two way traffic.

The Coleman Ave. Pier will be open to cruisers and walking traffic only.

The old school grounds at Central Ave. and Coleman Ave. will be open to pedestrian traffic only.

Terrace St. will be one-way from the railroad tracks to Arlington, and closed between Arlington and the beach.

BAY ST. LOUIS

Beach Blvd. will be blocked from Ulman Ave. to Court St.

Check-in will be at Ulman St. and Beach Blvd. Demontluzin Ave. and Carroll Ave. will be blocked at the beach and at 2nd St. They will be open only for residential traffic.

State St. will be blocked at the beach, and will be 2-way.

Main St. will be one-way until the 200 block. If necessary, police will extend it further.

2nd Street will remain open.

Waveland Library displays car collection

As part of the Cruisin' the Coast celebration in the City of Waveland, the Waveland Public Library is displaying its model car collection through October 31.

The collection, donated to the Waveland Public Library by Walter Hood in 1995, includes such classic cars as a 1929 Ford L-29 Coupe, a 1958 Porsche Speedster, and a 1953

Chevrolet Corvette.

Cruisers are invited to visit the library during library hours, which are Thursday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

For more information, contact Karen Cotton at the Waveland Public Library at 467-9240.

Jr. Miss information

Meetings will be held at area schools this week to provide information to junior girls interested in participating in the 2006 Hancock County Junior Miss program to be held in February.

Committee members will be at Bay High School on Monday, October 4 at 2:30 p.m., on Wednesday, October 6, meetings will be held at Hancock High School at 9 a.m. and at Our Lady Academy at 11:40.

RV Park -- controversy

Still, the most formidable opponent to the project is the city, which almost certainly will challenge the project in court.

Speaking for the casino Wednesday night, attorney Ronnie Artigues Jr. renewed his objections that traffic generated by the proposed RV park will cause problems.

Casino Magic Drive, running from Blue Meadow Road to the casino grounds, is privately owned and maintained by the casino. WBSL officials have a 30-foot easement for access to their property, which would be used by motor homes and travel trailers getting to and from the new park.

But Artigues said the easement arrangement with Casino Magic never contemplated an RV park access route. Use of Casino Magic Drive by the radio station so far, he said, has been permissive and may not continue to be permissive if the RV park is in the picture.

And he warned that by granting Hatchett permission to operate an RV park that uses Casino Magic Drive as an access, the city might be putting itself in legal jeopardy by creating a "dangerous traffic situation." The city, he said, may want to buy an indemnity policy against such claims, if it finally approves Hatchett's request.

In addition to Artigues' appearance on behalf of Casino Magic, Hatchett's lawyer sat in on the meeting. So did the city's attorney, John Scaffide, who cautioned the commission to state its legal findings clearly in the record when taking an official stand.

"Anything we do here can't over-ride the legalities of that drive," commissioner Tommy Chapman said concerning Hatchett's access route. His was the lone objection to the Hatchett application. Even if City Council approves the commission's recommendation, the legally sticky question of access won't have gone away.

City officials still must sign off on a "site plan" for the project, which covers such issues as ingress and egress to the RV park.

Hatchett has presented his request several times in recent years and has been granted the go-ahead by the commission and City Council. For a variety of reasons, however, the project has never gotten off the drawing board.

In other business Wednesday, commissioners recommended rejection of a request to subdivide property located at 502 and 504 Hancock Street. Located at the intersection of Sycamore Street, the parcels now contain two houses and a swimming pool. It is zoned for commercial use.

At first, commissioners thought they had no choice but to allow the subdivision, even though it would create one lot with a 27-foot frontage on Hancock. Commercial zoning carries no minimum lot size or setback requirements, officials said.

The commission deadlocked in a 3-3 vote over the issue, until Chapman pointed to a provision in the zoning code that deals with residential usage of commercially zoned properties. In such cases, he said, properties must meet the square footage and setback regulations set out for R-3 residential properties, he said.

The commission voted again, and rejected the request unanimously after Chapman made his point.

The night's action attracted a room full of spectators, including four of the five City Council members: Bill Taylor, Doug Seal, Tom Farve and Bobby Compretta.

In other matters, the commission recommended approval of applications to:

-Create two residential parcels out of property at 307 and 311 Carroll Avenue.

-Grant a two-foot side yard setback variance at 207 Ballentine St., to allow for a second story screened porch.

-Create two residential parcels out of lands at 535 State Street.

-Create two residential parcels out of lands at 108 S. Toulouse St.

Superintendent David Kopf said that as of Friday afternoon, he had not yet received a report on the incident.

McGehee said that the three girls signed statements detailing the incident, and officers were dispatched to arrest Lee. He was taken to the Hancock County Sheriff's office for processing.

Lee was charged with indecent exposure and disturbance of a school. His bond was set at $1,000, but he was released on his own recognizance with a $25 fee.

"His father seemed pretty upset," McGehee said.

A Portrait of Jennie; or, 'Paws for deep thought'

Views From a Front Porch

I woke up last night and, finding myself wide awake, began listening to the sounds of the night. It's an odd thing, but there are many noises around us that we become so accustomed to that we don't really hear them. The house shifts, the air conditioning goes on and then off, the clock ticks in the hall, its chimes go off on the hour with loud bongs. But mostly the sounds I heard last night were those made by Jennie, our gray German hound.

She was snoring.

As I lay there, I realized that, like the motor of an old refrigerator, her snoring was unobtrusive. Like the clock and the air conditioning, it was there and yet not there. I could if I wished have fallen back to sleep without it bothering me. Yet as I lay there, I realized that it was loud. In a way, however, the sound was comforting. Its presence meant to me, that Jennie was there and that when I awoke in the morning, she would still be there.

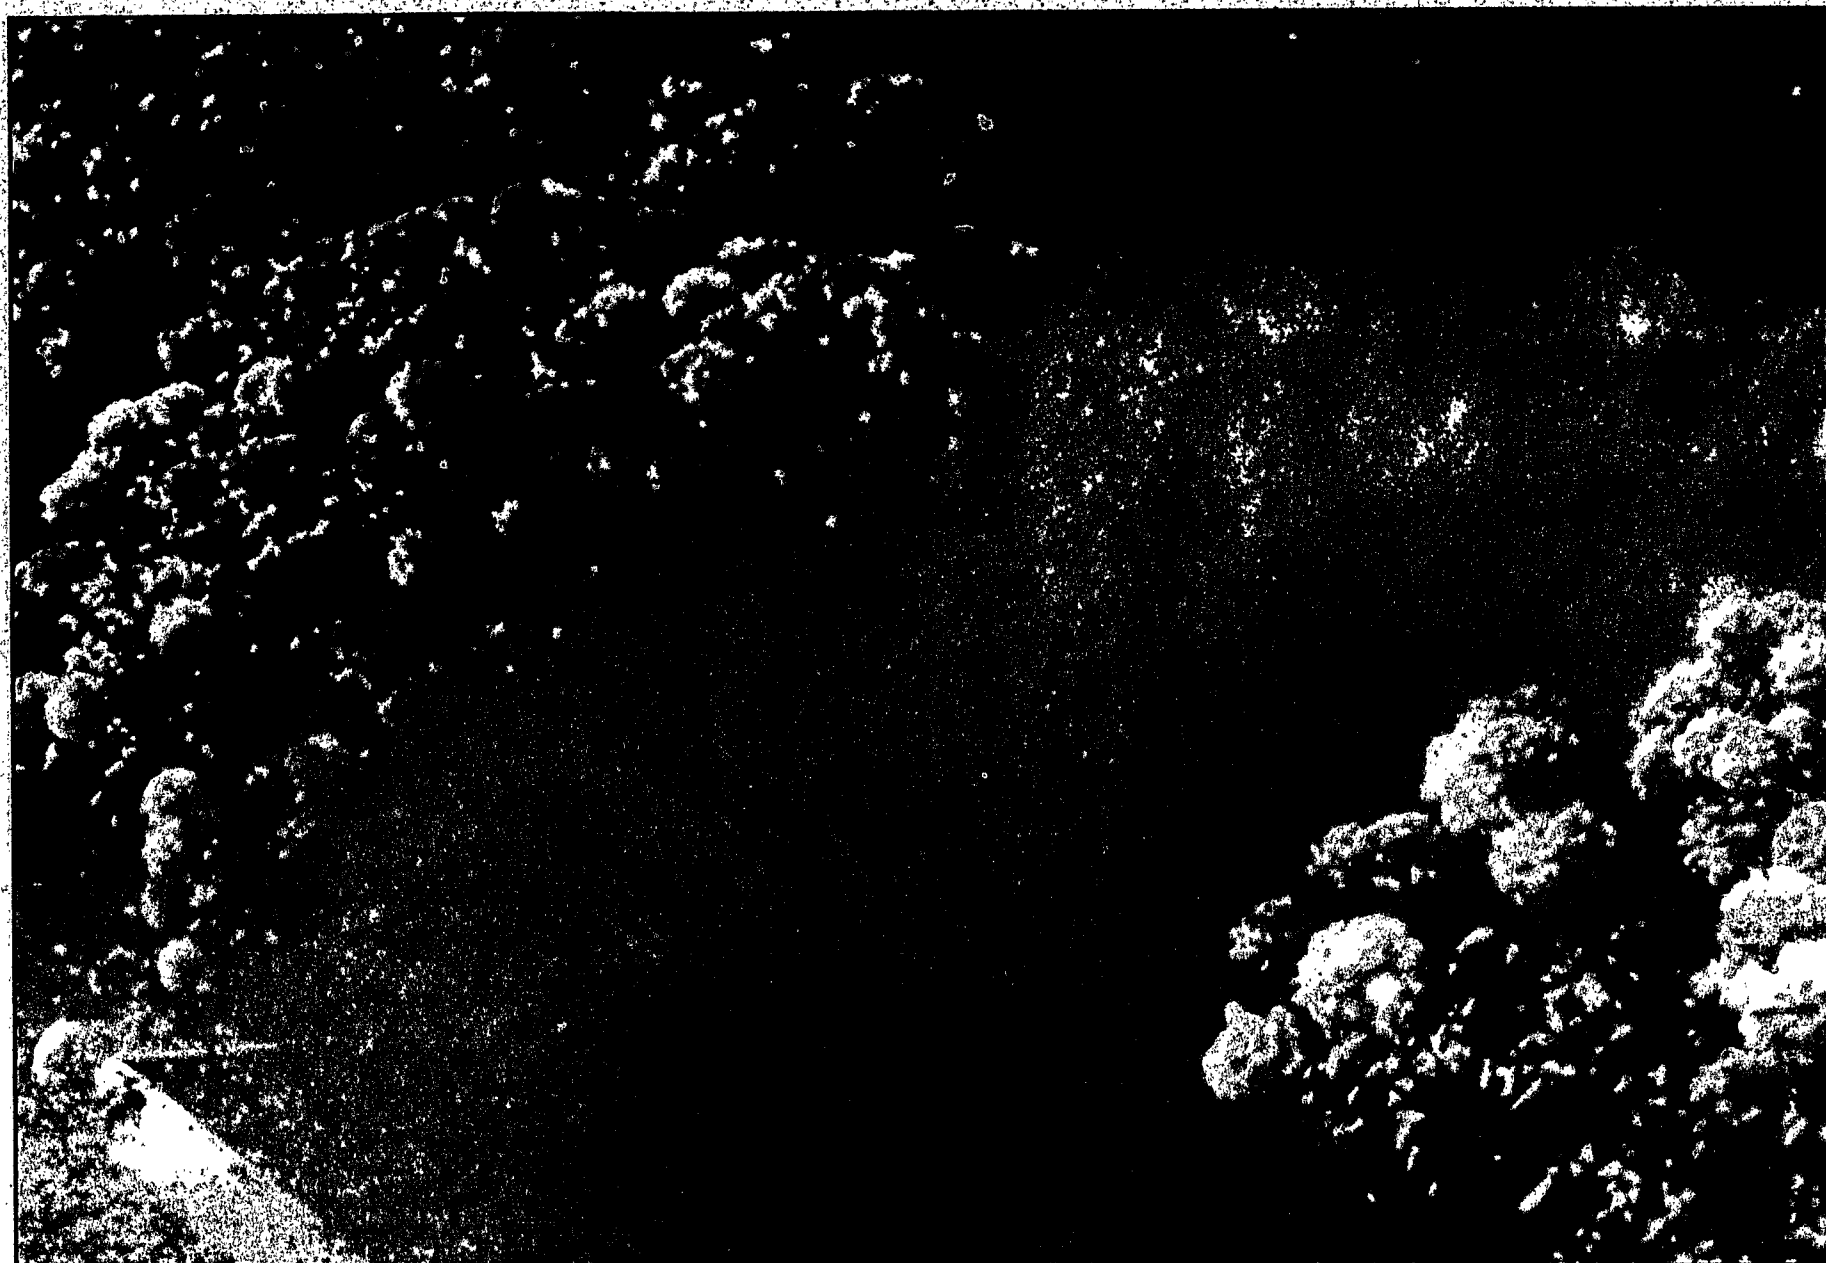

During the day, Jennie follows me around everywhere and at night she usually sleeps at the foot of our bed on her own pad. Every now and then, she wanders a bit during the night, sleeping sometimes on the small rug on Stella's side of the bed and sometimes on mine. When I awoke last night, she was on my side and I remember reaching down and touching her flank, listening to her snore.

We first started letting Jennie sleep in the bedroom after she had an accident a number of years ago. Before that she slept in the garage on a pad in an old plastic barrel with blankets added for the cold during winter. Then one week she had started chasing pickup trucks passing the house on the side street. Within that week, she was hit by one truck and lay on the street, screaming in pain and terror.

When I picked her up,

Splendor in the Grass

Muhly grass foliage offers a unique, spiky texture and the plant finishes the season with the Grand Finale: the bloom. The bloom gives the appearance of a billowy, rose-pink cloud that moves back and forth gracefully with the breeze. The blooms persist until freezing weather arrives.

Muhly grass is already showing out with its incredible display of color. No doubt, it will be the hit again at the Annual Fall Flower and Garden Fest Oct. 15-16.

This event, held at the Truck Crops Branch Experiment Station in Crystal Springs, is unsurpassed as the best free horticultural festival in the South.

Muhly grass, which will be for sale at the Fest, was little known a few years ago, even though it is native to much of the South. Today it ranks as one of the most popular. Its virtues are many, including the ability to return from cold, blustery winters and thrive in high heat and humidity.

Waveland Animal Shelter re-opens

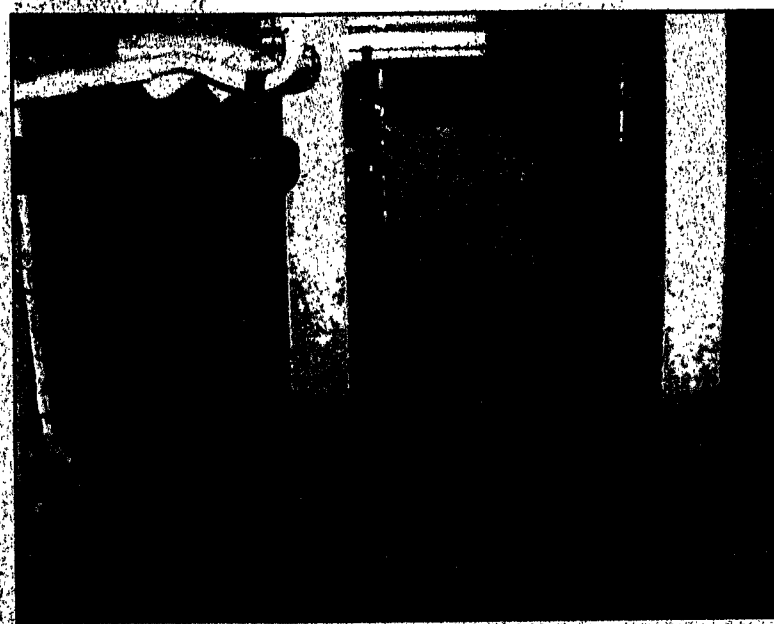

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Waveland Animal Shelter and Spay/Neuter Clinic will re-open for regular business Monday morning, October 4.

After sending the animals out of the county for Hurricane Ivan, cleaning, disinfecting and painting began. Staff at the Shelter clean on a daily basis, but the moving everything out and cleaning every little crack can only be done when the Shelter is closed.

Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo said last week, "The hurricane was an unwelcome visitor to the Gulf Coast," according to Friends of the Animal Shelter in Hancock County President Carol Strohmets, "but it was a boon for the shelter. With news of

To register for the course call Herb Carnathan, 228-864-9487.

Bay's Molly Fitzpatrick inducted into order of Gownsmen at Sewanee

Molly Fitzpatrick of Bay Saint Louis, was inducted into the Order of Gownsmen at the University of the South's opening convocation for the 2004 Advent semester. Molly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Fitzpatrick.

Since the early years of the University of the South, the academic gown has played a vital role in undergraduate life. First created to differentiate the students of the college from those of the grammar school, the gown quickly became a symbol bestowed upon those having attained a certain age and deserving it by academic progress and moral character.

These 'Gownsmen' were judged as capable of self-governance and therefore, those capable of governing the student body. Though election into the Order of Gownsmen has changed through the years, from election by current members, to selection by the faculty, to the current grade requirements, the Order of Gownsmen has remained the body responsible for maintaining the spirit, traditions, and ideals of the University of the South.

A student government body unique to Sewanee, the order of Gownsmen provides a diverse group of students with the opportunity to influence the legislation of the University.

Gownsmen have the privilege of ensuring that the ethos of the University, the dedication to honor and to academic diligence, is maintained, not only in themselves but also in their fellow students. The wearing of the gown is a sign of achievement, a responsibility to the traditions of the past and a promise to continuance of these ideals. It is both a privilege and a responsibility, and acceptance of the gown is a pledge to aid in the governing of the student body through continued academic leadership, community awareness and moral accountability.

The University of the South is an independent liberal arts college, owned by 28 dioceses of the Episcopal Church, and located atop Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau.

In the Shadows

Hancock High School Job Shadow/Living Skills Program

The Job-Shadow / Living Skills program is off to a great start for the second year in a row. This is the newest program at H.H.S. It is geared to help students to transition into the work force after high school. The goal of this program is to teach the necessary skills needed to succeed in the world. Dunbar Village and Good Will are both training sites for these students. Also many other businesses along with state and local offices are used in this program. The academic teacher for the program is Mrs. Gay Davis and Mrs. Shelley "Fos" Underhill is the Job Coach. Quote: Underhill, "Our students are gaining knowledge and skills that will help them to succeed in a world that throws us curve balls everyday." "I have never met a group of young people so willing to do what ever it takes to make a difference in where they will be, and what they will be doing after high school." Back row for left to right: Mrs. Gay Davis, Sarah Wagner, Roy Necaise, Davis Fountin, Van Farve, Cecil Brunette, Jack Delle, Mrs. Shelley Underhill. the plant finishes the season with the Grand Finale: the bloom. The bloom gives the appearance of a billowy, rose-pink cloud that moves back and forth gracefully with the breeze. The blooms persist until freezing weather arrives.

Whether or not you can attend the Fest, now is the time to shop. So, as you are getting your mums, pansies, kale and cabbage, pick up some muhly grass, too!

To grow yours, select a site in full sun, with fertile, organic-rich soil. Amend the soil as needed with 3 to 4 inches of organic matter like compost or humus.

Till the soil to a depth of 8 to 10 inches and incorporate 2 pounds of a slow-release 12-6-6 fertilizer.

Dig the planting hole two to three times as wide as the rootball, but no deeper. Plant the muhly grass at the same depth it is growing in the container, with the crown slightly above the soil profile. Space plants 24 to 36 inches apart, and apply a good layer of mulch after planting.

In late winter, cut the foliage back to the ground before spring growth as resumed. Apply a light application of the fertilizer at the time of pruning and again in mid-summer. Keep the grass watered during the prolonged dry periods of summer for the best appearance. Clumps can be divided in early spring.

Muhly grass reaches 3 to 4 feet in height and looks at home in any kind of garden. Grow in beds with deep pink shrub roses. Place them in front of other grasses like dwarf pampas, purple fountain or black bamboo. Muhly grass is awesome with Clara Curtis or Country Girl chrysanthemums. While specimen plantings are exceptional, try grouping three together for an especially showy display.

Muhly grass is sold generically and sells out quickly, so don't procrastinate in your shopping. Oh, yes -- in case you are wondering where the name Muhly comes from, it is actually a shortened version of its botanical name Muhlenbergia capillaris.

To find out more about the Fall Flower and Garden Fest, including information on attending, exhibiting or group tours, call (601) 892-3731. The event now draws over 6,000 visitors and brings tour buses from other states. The seminars, wagon rides, food and fun are non-stop Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Gulf of Mexico program awards grant to USM

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) Gulf of Mexico Program recently awarded a grant for $18,784 to the University of Southern Mississippi's Center of Higher Learning (CHL) to develop a web-based environmental education site using Geographic Information System technologies. The site will focus on wetlands in Jackson, Harrison, and Hancock counties.

"Through this project, the Gulf of Mexico Program hopes to help South Mississippi students better understand the functions and value of wetlands and to make more informed future decisions that will ultimately help sustain Mississippi's priceless coastal ecosystem," said Bryon O. Griffith, Gulf of Mexico Program Director.

CHL will be working with the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center, Mississippi State University's Coastal Research and Extension Center, and the U.S. Naval Oceanographic Office to bring the web site on line.

Other contributing partners to this project are the Geospatial Applications Laboratory, the Long Beach Rotary Club, and the Mississippi Automated Resource Information System (MARIS).

The web site supports EPA and Gulf of Mexico Program goals to have healthy communities and ecosystems using integrated and comprehensive approaches and partnerships.

The Gulf of Mexico Program is underwritten by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and is a non-regulatory, inclusive consortium of state and federal government agencies and representatives of the business and agricultural community, fishing industry, scientists, environmentalists, and community leaders from all five Gulf States. The Gulf Program seeks to improve the environmental health of the Gulf in concert with economic development.

her front left leg was pointed awkwardly at midpoint to one side. With the help of the pickup's driver, I managed to get her in the back of our car and with Stella rushed her to the small emergency animal clinic in Orange Grove.

The clinic was understaffed at the time and I had to hold the sedated Jennie while the vet drilled holes in her leg. These were for stainless steel bolts that secured the two steel rods that would keep the leg in traction and provide support while the shattered bones healed.

The trip home was slower. Stella drove and I sat in the back with Jennie. That night, Jennie slept for the first time on the floor in the bedroom. I slept beside her as she came out of the anesthetic. The vet warned me that it would be rough and it was.

When we got Jennie originally, it was a trial sort of thing. A friend sent a woman to us with a Weimaraner. The woman was not home enough to adequately take care of the large dog and was looking for someone to adopt it. It was a nice-looking dog, about two years old. We said we would keep her on a trial basis for a week. The woman agreed and left.

The next morning I woke up and turned to Stella in the bed beside me. "What do you think?" She knew right away what I was talking about, "Call the woman," she said, "and tell her we want to give her back her dog."

The problem was that the dog was extremely active. The evening before, the dog had worn us out. And she would be just one of three dogs! We still had Lillie and Heron at that time, two very active Weimaraners. Three dogs would be a lot of dogs. And when one of them is as active as the new dog, that's more than a lot of dogs.

We decided we would keep Jennie (her new name) one more day and see how things worked out. That 'one more day' was extended to another day and that day to another and then another.

Heron and Lillie are both gone and all we have left is Jennie. We are glad we kept her. She really is a wonderful dog, tall, rather handsome, with a tail that's been docked on the long side. When Jennie does act up, we tell her that she had better start behaving because it's getting near the end of the week. For some reason, she never seems to be worried.

She loves to go with me on the beach. When she was younger, she loved the exulting feeling of freedom presented by its open spaces. She would race ahead of me on the sand, moving at tremendous speed in broad, ranging circles, shedding some of the excess of energy that seemingly was always cooped up within her. If I had a Frisbee, she would leap impossible heights to pluck it from the sky. To watch Jennie then was to watch the essence of the joy of life.

Now time is with us and our walks on the beach are more sedate. Jennie still moves about eagerly, sniffing and checking the sharp smells of the shoreline, but the full roar of endless circles of shedding energy is gone. A friend asked to take her with him as company on his three-mile walk the other day. He brought her back after less than a mile.

She was walking slow and shaking at the hip. Arthritis and age have taken their toll. At thirteen years, she is not the blurred whirlwind of movement she was when, a decade ago, the women left her with us for a one-week trial.

So, last night when I touched her lying beside the bed and listened to her snore, I felt and heard a warm presence of many years of deep love and company. It had felt good and, knowing she was there, I slipped easily back into a sound sleep.

NOTICE OF A FINDING OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT

The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received an application for financial assistance from Standard Dedeaux Water Association. The proposed project consists of approximately 50 miles of 4-inch through 8-inch PVC water mains which will serve an estimated 600 households. The water supply will come from a 600 gpm water well and a 150,000 gallon elevated storage tank.

As required by the National Environmental Policy Act, the Rural Utility Service has assessed the potential effects of the proposed project and has determined that the proposal will not have a significant effect on the human environment and for which an Environmental Impact Statement will not be prepared. The basis of this determination is documented within the Environmental Assessment.

The Environmental Assessment can be reviewed at the Rural Development Area Office located at 113 Fairfield Drive, Hattiesburg, Mississippi. For further information, please contact Robert W. Windham, Area Specialist, at 601-261-3293.

Hancock Library announces October events

Nancy Gex, Waveland resident and author of The Beverly, is the featured speaker for the Authors & Characters @ Your Library program Tuesday, October 12 at 11:45 a.m. at the Waveland Public Library.

Gex tells the story of how The Beverly Dinner Playhouse in New Orleans became widely regarded in the 1970's as one of the country's finest and most successful dinner theaters.

Learn about the stars, such as Dana Andrews, Van Johnson, Virginia Mayo, Tab Hunter and more who fell in love with The Beverly.

Lunch is available for $5 with advance reservations. Call Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Shipwrecks off the Mississippi Gulf Coast is the topic of a talk by David Ball, Senior Marine Archaeologist with the U.S. Department of the Interior Minerals Management Service in New Orleans. The program, set for Monday, October 18 at 7 p.m. in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library, is part of the events scheduled in Hancock County in observance of Mississippi Archaeology Month. A display of archaeological artifacts will also be available during the month at the County Library. Bay St. Louis-Hancock The Josephine, a side wheel merchant ship sunk on February 9, 1881, is just one of the shipwrecks that have been identified. Located in 1997 off the coast of Biloxi, the Josephine research has provided clues about the merchant shipping industry and the development of iron-hulled steamship technology of the 19th century.

Storytelling workshop

DEBORAH HILL, left, Pearllington Public Library Branch Manager, acts out a story at the Mississippi Library Commission Storytelling Workshop last week at the Pascagoula Public Library. Diane Williams with the Mississippi Arts Commission was the workshop facilitator. Participants learned the art of interactive storytelling. Looking on is Sandra Ladner, Kiln Public Library Branch Manager. Also attending from the Hancock County Library System were Waveland Public Library Branch Manager Karen Cotton and Hancock County Library System Community Services Coordinator Jamie Elston.

Mississippi Archaeology Month is a statewide effort to inform the public about the role archaeology plays in understanding the history of many groups of people who have lived in the state.

More information on the program is available by calling Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

The Great Books Discussion Group meets every other Wednesday to discuss books chosen by the group. The meeting in October will be Wednesday, October 13 and October 27 at 7 p.m. in the Seal Meeting Room of the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library. For more information, contact Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Sonny Brewer, editor of the popular Stories from the Blue Moon Cafe anthology, is set to speak at the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County Library on Tuesday, October 26 at 7 p.m.

Brewer owns Over the Transom Bookstore in Fairhope, Alabama, and has edited and published three books that includes writings of Southern authors. Larry Brown, William Gay, Fannie Flagg and W.E.B. Griffin are just a few of the contributors in one book that runs the gamut from mystery to humor to essay to rhyme.

This program is part of the Authors & Characters @ Your Library series. For more information, contact Jamie Elston at 467-5282.

Founding Mothers by Cokie Roberts is the topic of discussion at the next Second Friday Book Club Friday, October 8 at 10 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library.

The group meets the second Friday of every month to discuss bestsellers. It is not necessary to read the book to attend the meeting. For more information, call Gloria Burlette at 255-9097 or Sandra Ladner at 255-1724.

Cotton attends state library institute

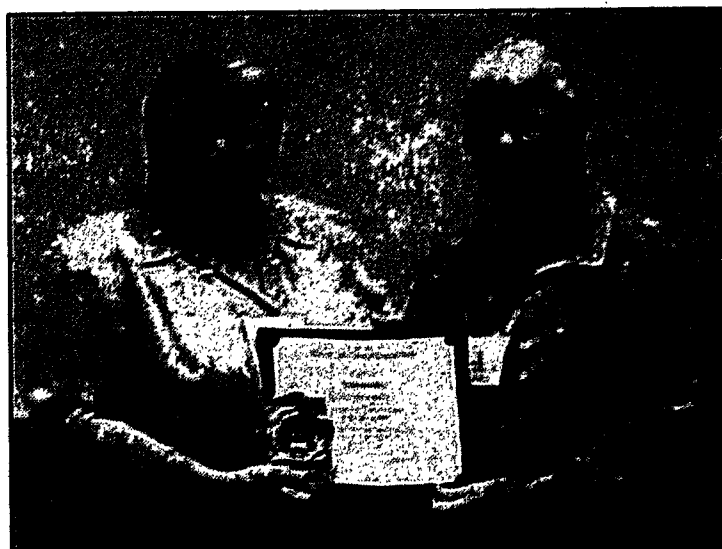

Karen Cotton, Waveland Public Library branch manager, attended the first annual Librarianship 101 Institute, hosted by the Mississippi Library Commission. The institute is an intensive, week-long training program that introduces library paraprofessionals to all aspects of professional librarianship. Participation was based on a competitive selection process, with public library directors being asked to nominate paraprofessional staff members.

Training for the twenty-eight participants from eighteen Mississippi public library systems ran the gamut from the history and philosophy of libraries to the governance and funding of public libraries, to customer service, resource sharing and reference services. Participants' efforts were formally recognized in a concluding graduation ceremony where diplomas and commemorative plaques were awarded.

"We are proud that Karen was selected for this important training," said Hancock County Library System Director Prima Plausche. "I learned a great deal at the program," said Cotton. "It just pulled everything together for me. It kept my attention the entire time."

The library commission plans to make the institute a regular part of an annual continuing education program. As commission executive director Sharman Smith remarked, "I am still in awe of our students, of their attention to all of the information provided, and of their enthusiasm. From the perspective of the library commission, and because of the participants, the institute was a great success."

KAREN COTTON, Waveland Public Library Branch Manager, receives her diploma for completing the Mississippi Library Commission's first Librarianship 101 Institute. Cotton was one of 28 participants from 18 Mississippi public library systems. Presenting the diploma is Sharman Smith, Mississippi Library Commission Executive Director.

Roberts' Founding Mothers is topic at 2nd Friday Book Club

Founding Mothers by Cokie Roberts is the topic of discussion at the Second Friday Book Club, on Friday, October 8, at 10 a.m. at the Kiln Public Library. The book club is cosponsored by the Kiln Public Library and Gloria Burlette.

The group was formed over a year ago and originally began meeting on the first Friday of every month. They moved to the second Friday to accommodate members. Each month the group discusses a different book, normally one from the best seller list.

The library system can be accessed through the World Wide Web at www.hancock.lib.ms.us. The Easy Access Catalog is available by clicking on the Online Catalog button the library's home page.

More information on the group is available by calling Gloria Burlette at 255-9097, or Sandra Ladner at 255-1724.

Our Heavenly Treasures

Our moods sometime seem as fleeting as the wind; here one moment and gone the next. We can be in a good mood one minute only to find ourselves feeling sour or blue shortly thereafter. Fortunately, the bad moods usually pass just as quickly as they come. Some psychologists theorize that moods are related to our stockpile of resources, and that while our resources are growing, we tend to be in good moods. Whereas dwindling resources can trigger bad moods. On this view, when our circle of friends is growing, our investments are making money, and the sun is shining on our crops, we tend to be in positive moods; but, when our friends leave us, our bank accounts dwindle, and the sun is nowhere to be seen, we are more likely to be in a bad mood. So what can we do to deliver us from our bad moods? Be productive. Do some housework, exercise, work on neglected or damaged relationships, and take stock of our material and spiritual resources. And perhaps most important of all, remember that our most valuable treasure is stored in heaven. So, don't neglect your relationship with God. In the final accounting, our bank account won't matter nearly as much as our relationship with God.

Do not lay up for yourselves treasures on earth... But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven... For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.

R.S.V. Matthew 6:19-21

Jesus knew the best building codes

In a tale of two ladies and two men, Florida was devastated successively within a near 6-week span by Charley, Frances, Ivan and Jeanne. Overall, one in five houses was seriously damaged by winds and waters. As building and safety experts pored over various collapsed structures, they made some eye-opening observations.

Fingering concrete blocks from one ripped-open condominium, a building specialist pointed to the separation of concrete blocks, indicating that there was no tie-in of any kind between concrete blocks. Strong tie-ins would have prevented wall disintegration.

Construction experts also pointed out that, to this day, almost all houses are built with little or no regard for ability to withstand hurricane-force winds. How can it be a surprise, then, when a hurricane comes along and damages or levels all such houses?

Another non-surprise was discovered a couple of decades ago when safety officials experimented with houses built a slight distance behind what amounted to a sand levee; that is, a sand wall constructed about twelve feet high some 300 feet from the water.

Not thought of until that time, yet, predictably, those levee-shielded houses escaped with minimal damage from hurricanes. Obviously, every little bit of protection helps. But do you think people have been following this method of construction? Hardly at all.

Concurrent with that, sea-side and gulfside cities prone to the ravages of hurricanes have repeatedly warned their citizens not to build on the exposed side of the shores. Some communities have even made laws forbidding such construction. All to no avail.

People at large insist on building on the unprotected side of beaches around the world because it is the most picturesque, the most attractive and, therefore, commercially the most profitable. Numerous times, I have been a witness that even lesser-category storms use dismantled piers as battering rams to make matchsticks of all waterside structures.

Like lemmings bent on a suicidal march into the waters, people stubbornly build and rebuild beachside where hurricanes visit, and riverside on the flood plains where capricious rivers decide when they will flood after swelling with melted snow and rain.

On August 16, 1992, Hurricane Andrew, with its $26.5 billion legacy of wreckage, confirmed all of the above plus an extra item. That extra item was the puzzle wherein the only structures which crumbled were the prefabricated, stapled ones. None of the houses put together with hammer and nail by Habitat For Humanity workers were destroyed.

So, logically, the dependable, old-fashioned hammer and nail should replace the quickie stapling of prefabricated parts, at least in areas susceptible to hurricanes.

Right? It should be so, but apparently the hammer and nail routine is too inconvenient and a bit too costly for most people. Instead, they opt for the eventually more costly prefab staple.

Jesus had some amazingly pertinent advice for those who would build without proper foundation or in places where their structures are endangered. No doubt, it was the sound knowledge in the carpenter's Son which had to come out. Although he did not live in an area where hurricanes strike, he seemed to be addressing hurricane-prone areas as well.

"Everyone who listens to these words of mine and acts on them will be like a wise man who built his house on rock. The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and buffeted the house. But it did not collapse; it had been set solidly on rock."

"And everyone who listens to these words of mine but does not act on them will be like a fool who built his house on sand. The rain fell, the floods came, and the winds blew and buffeted the house. And it collapsed and was completely ruined." (Matthew 7:24-27)

We have strong evidence here in the words of Jesus that some of the best and the most common-sense based building codes were composed some 1970 years ago. Still, after an opportunity of pondering the building code for nearly two millennia, most folks go on blithely ignoring the obvious, throwing up unprotected, unreinforced seaside structures.

Sure, Jesus literally meant physical buildings to which he directed our attention. This is something all of us can understand, even those of us who refuse to heed the strong advice not to build on sand and with materials which will not withstand rain and winds.

However, he was actually getting at something much deeper and much more important than mere physical structures. Jesus was training our attention toward the most critical of all structures: the spiritual values of our minds, our hearts and our very souls.

On one hand, we readily understand shifting sand and other loose elements as some of the poorest foundations on which we can construct anything. While good weather poses no threat to sand-supported structures, rain and wind spell trouble and ultimate doom.

On the other hand, we are very slow to appreciate the spiritual sand on which we tend to construct the most vital elements of our lives. What is this spiritual sand, anyway? The worst sand is the godless secularism pushed by the media, the ACLU and society at large.

Incredibly, many people build the unholy spiritual structure of their lives on the worst sand: the evil twins of jealousy and envy, the most widespread and the most efficient destroyers of personal contentment and of human relations at every level of our lives.

The other shifting sands of life are selfishness, pride, arrogance, greed, intolerance, prejudice, racism, hedonism, lust and all the deadly vices which make a mockery of and destroy our humanity and anything that is holy in our human relationships.

And what are the spiritual storms against which we must brace ourselves? Hurricanes do not hold a candle to the storms and ulterior forces which pound against us every day of our lives. In Ephesians 6:11-12, Paul warns us to reinforce ourselves:

"Put on the armor of God so that you may be able to stand firm against the tactics of the devil. For our struggle is not with flesh and blood but with the principalities, with the powers, with the world rulers of this present darkness, with the evil spirits in the heavens."

The right direction

There are many Christian denominations who have similar doctrines. Their belief is to establish the believer in the faith.

However, same take issue with the way it is being done. Baptism in water is one of the most controversial doctrine in the Christian church today. Example, Some believe in complete emerging. Others believe pouring or sprinkling is the proper way. Is not the intent the most important thing? God knows the heart.

Communion: The taking of the Lord's supper. Wine, grape fruit juice, the Eucharist, crackers, or bread. Is it not to celebrate and remember what God's son did for us? It's the intent!

However, there are Bible doctrines that are very clear about what constitutes a person to be a Christian.

It is not just joining a local church. It is not just being brought up by a God fearing family. It is however, a fellowship with the Lord Jesus Christ. Getting to know him personally.

All the men and women in the bible who knew God personally, had a personal fellowship with him.

All Christian churches in doctrine; attempt to point people to God. That steeple on the church is pointing towards the heavens.

The question is, are we looking in that direction? 1 John 1: 3 & 4.

The "Word" for the Week

Christ our king

Ignorance is bliss! That's one perspective. The other side of the coin is plain: Ignorance is no excuse. Then some folks say, "What you don't know won't hurt you." But that's not entirely true either. This is especially the case when it comes to knowing God.

Too many people suffer from an ignorance of God. When they die and come to judgement, they will not be able to plead ignorance. Ignorance will be no excuse. The Bible says we should recognize God "through what has been made." The Bible therefore says of all people everywhere, "they are without excuse" (Romans 1:20). Why is this so important? Well first of all, your eternal welfare hangs in the balance. That's right! If you expect to enjoy eternal life after death and find a place in heaven, ignorance of God must go. Because as the Bible teaches, "this is eternal life, that they may know Thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom Thou hast sent" (John 17:3). Yes, to have eternal life, you must really know God and Jesus Christ. You must know them as persons you love and trust. Then too, if you really know Jesus Christ, you know that He is the Lord of creation. You bow before Him and accept Him as your Lord. You seek to serve Him. There is no other way to heaven and eternal life. The Bible is clear. "If you confess with your mouth Jesus as Lord, and believe in your heart that God raised Him from the dead, you shall be saved" (Romans 10:9). Do you know God? Do you confess Jesus Christ as the Lord over your life?

Hancock Middle School students chosen for TIP program

Hancock Middle School congratulates the educational success of its seventh grade students who qualified to participate in the 25th annual seventh grade academic talent search. The search is sponsored by the Duke University Talent Identification Program (TIP) which covers a 16 state region. Ms. Derinda A. Cain, Gifted Education Teacher at HMS, states that these students were identified to participate in this academic program based upon their MS Curriculum Test score of the 2003-2004 school year. The students will be able to take the ACT or SAT college entrance exams this year as well as take advantage of many innovative opportunities the Duke program provides to our academically talented young people. "We are honored to have so many students qualify for this exceptional experience," said Ms. Cain.

$10,000 Hydrography Scholarship at USM

Jenny Ruiz loves computers, technology, and the marine sciences. These passions led her to The University of Southern Mississippi's Hydrographic Science Program and a $10,000 scholarship.

Ruiz is the first recipient of a scholarship established by Tenix LADS Inc., a Biloxi, Miss., based subsidiary of Tenix, Australia's largest defense and applied technology company.

Michael Janus, business development manager for Tenix LADS Inc., assisted in setting up the scholarship. "Tenix LADS is a company dedicated to expanding our business here on the Mississippi Gulf Coast," Janus said. "In order to accomplish this goal, we believe it is incumbent upon us to partner with programs that deliver highly educated, qualified and capable individuals who can succeed with us. We see the Hydrographic Science Program at The University of Southern Mississippi as such an opportunity, and are pleased to join with them to help support worthy students and bring superior education to the ranks of those engaged in this profession," Janus said.

A native of New Orleans, Ruiz will live in Diamondhead, Miss., while she commutes to Stennis Space Center for courses to complete a master of science in hydrographic science over a 12-month period. With two semesters of classroom activity and one semester of field work, the graduates of the Southern Miss Hydrographic Science Program benefit from an applied program in which they repeatedly put their new knowledge into practice.

"Once I complete my degree, I plan to get a job - I'm not sure where yet," Ruiz said. While Ruiz incurs no obligation to Tenix LADS, she does get the opportunity to visit Tenix facilities in Biloxi to familiarize herself with Tenix and the work accomplished there.

Tenix LADS Inc. leads the world in the supply of airborne laser bathymetry survey services. The company owns and operates the Laser Airborne Depth Sounder (LADS), which is internationally recognized as one of the fastest, most cost-effective tools for accurate, bathymetric survey in coastal waters to 70 meters depth. They are a contractor of choice for these services by National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and recently completed a three-month survey operation on the Alaskan Peninsula as a partial fulfillment of their multi-year contract with NOAA.

For more information, call the Southern Miss Hydrographic Science Program at (228) 688-7096.

Charles Crossley to address Pass Christian artists

The Pass Christian Art Association will have its monthly meeting Saturday, October 16, at 2 p.m. in the Pass Christian Library Community Room. The featured artist will be Charles R. Crossley of the Studio of Art and Design, McComb, MS. He will give a lecture and demonstration on Mixed Media and Collage Techniques and will use a number of his works for illustration. Mr.

Crossley, a native of Pike County, served for nine years in the Navy and was stationed in San Diego. He received a BA in Fine Arts and has the equivalent of a MA in Fine Arts and Commercial Art from the Coronado School of Fine Art. He taught art at San Diego Community College for 21 years and has been teaching art for 41 years. He returned to McComb in 1993 and teaches at Venman Junior High school. In 2000 he was commissioned by the Mississippi State Heritage Trust to do a study and a painting of Prentiss Institute, an historic black school. His paintings hang in private and public collections throughout the nation.

Members of the public are welcome to attend. There is no charge. For information, call Ernie Allison at (228) 452-4188.

Advertising is an investment in the success of your business. Every business has some kind of competition, either within the town, nearby city or from mail order firms. Your potential customers are being courted by your competitors. If you do not invite those customers to do business with you, they are likely to forget you and buy elsewhere. It is not uncommon for consumers to switch their trading from one store to another. Advertising helps to keep old customers and equally as important, make new ones.

Our community is constantly growing which means that potential customers are moving into the market area all the time. Advertising gives these newcomers a reason to visit your store.

Most businesses budget for their advertising expenses just as they do for other necessities such as rent, phones, etc. Smart business people realize that advertising is imperative to keep their business growing.

Another reason to advertise is that advertising is news! You profit by telling our readers what is new in your store. Through advertising, you can let a wide audience know the product lines you carry, the quality of your merchandise, the completeness of your service and the character of your store.

If you have something to sell, then you have something to advertise. When you have nothing to advertise, you are out of business. Advertising is designed to build your business and works best when it is repeated regularly. Consistent advertising pays off!

Now that you know some of the reasons to advertise, you're probably wondering how you can advertise most effectively. Surveys show that ads in local newspapers have more impact than in any other medium. The Sea Coast Echo goes into the majority of the homes in Hancock County. The Sea Coast Echo is full of interesting reading, it is a part of our community. People like to read about people and The Sea Coast Echo is full of pictures and stories about local people. The most important reason to advertise in The Sea Coast Echo is that our readers are your customers.

If you're looking for the best advertising value for your money, then you should contact the advertising department at The Sea Coast Echo. One of our advertising representatives will be happy to discuss the many advertising options offered by The Sea Coast Echo. For more information you may call 467-5474, Monday through Friday 8am to 5pm, or stop by our office at 124 Court Street, Bay St. Louis.

Since 1892, The Sea Coast Echo is proud to be a part of your community

The 'Maine Event'

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The Maine Event a delicious crustacean dinner, will take place at St. Thomas Episcopal Church on October 30, 2004 at 7pm. Take-out or eat-in, lobsters will be steamed or live as requested.

Those who wish to dine-in will find the lobsters steamed to perfection and served with beverages, salad & dessert in Johnson Hall at the church.

The sale of the lobsters is a fundraiser for children who live in Wilmer Hall in Mobile, AL. Wilmer Hall raises and educates children between the ages of 10 and 21, who are referred by the nation's Departments of Human Resources.

It all began in 1864 for the orphans of Confederate soldiers and has been 'home' to hundreds of children. Now it serves for the special needs of children who have been abused, neglected or from broken homes.

The lobsters are $18 each and range in weight from 1.25 to 1.5 pounds. Tickets are available October 3, 2004 to October 24, 2004. For further information, please call Bobby Stephens at 255-1241.

Wanda Sykes does it her way as she tries out various jobs

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

If you've had a bad airline experience, you probably didn't respond the way Wanda Sykes did.

After a bumpy plane ride, the brash comedian and actress ("Curb Your Enthusiasm") decided she'd make a better pilot herself, so she set out to learn how. The experience - the first of several attempts by Sykes to do others' jobs - fuels the premiere episode of Sykes' Comedy Central series "Wanda Does It," a blend of humor and reality that starts Tuesday, Oct. 5.

Sykes also tries employment in a Las Vegas casino and becomes a repossessioner in later installments. She proposed the show to executive producer Lance Crouther while they were still working on the Fox sitcom "Wanda at Large."

"We were waiting for them to adjust the lights or something," Sykes recalls, "and it was taking, like, forever. I was like, 'Man, I can do that! Look at this, wasting all this time.' We kept talking about it, and I said, 'We should pitch that, a show where I just go around and do a bunch of different jobs, like install cable and everything.'"

Others seem more nervous about Sykes as an aviator than she does (including her manager, played by actor Tim Bagley). "Once you get up in the air, it's a piece of cake," she maintains. "It's nothing. It's just the getting down that's the hard part. When I'm up there, man, it's beautiful. It's great. I loved it. It's just the landing that's a problem."

A half-hour episode of "Wanda Does It" makes it seem Sykes learns a given profession in mere hours, but she admits "it all depends on the job. It might take us five or six days to shoot." Those days don't necessarily come one after another, since Sykes reports that when she was at the plane's controls, "I was also shooting a movie, 'Monster-in-Law,' starring Jennifer Lopez and Jane Fonda. The crew from this show came to the movie set, and we shot some stuff in my trailer."

Being up in the air proved easier for Sykes than some earthbound tasks did: "It's not a good feeling when you're in the 'hood knocking on Mr. Martinez's door and trying to get his keys after you have his ride hooked up (to be towed away) outside."

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Oct. 3 through Oct. 9, 2004
Aries (March 21 - April 20)

Changes in your health routine are in order. Somewhere, something's out of balance - start investigating.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

You'll feel more creative and aspire to begin expressing it in a new way. You'll have plenty of support, too.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

A move could be in order, but more importantly, a change on the home front is likely - especially in the decor aspect.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

Communications are highlighted, and you'll find a new way to express yourself in the near future.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Balancing your checkbook might be a struggle for you, but it's a necessary evil. You'll feel better when it's done.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

Personal changes are in store. Yes, they may seem scary, but you've grown beyond who you are now.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

You'll feel like spending time by yourself as you take inventory of your recent accomplishments.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

Balance will be hard to come by between your work and personal life. Find a way to make it all work.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Friends will be banging down your door to hang out with you. You may have to rearrange your schedule.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

When you say you want to travel, ask yourself what's stopping you from doing it. Then, remove the obstacle.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You might not have your money in the right place. Review your paperwork to ensure proper investment.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Romance and relationships pick up, and you'll wonder how you got so lucky. Be sure to tell your partner how you feel.

Christopher Gorham

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

On Aug. 14, Christopher Gorham of NBC's new drama "Medical Investigation" turned 30 and got a taste of what working for a major broadcast network means.

"For my birthday," he says, "I got Prada from the network. It was pretty nice. They really spoil us. It is the life. I think I could do this job forever."

Gorham plays Dr. Miles McCabe, the newest and youngest member of a National Institutes of Health team that travels the country unraveling medical mysteries.

For Gorham, the experience is a bit like "This Is Your Life."

The show is shot on the Paramount lot, on the stages formerly occupied by The WB's "Angel," which was co-created by David Greenwalt, who was also executive producer of Gorham's UPN show last season, "Jake 2.0."

It's next door to UPN's "Star Trek: Enterprise," whose producer, Manny Coto, created Gorham's earlier show, "Odyssey 5" (also, "Enterprise" regular Anthony Montgomery is a pal of Gorham's).

And until recently, "Medical Investigation" was just around the corner from FX's "Nip/Tuck," created by "Popular" producer Ryan Murphy.

"I'm working with all my old friends," Gorham says.

Being on the Hollywood lot also has other advantages.

"You feel like you're part of history," Gorham says. "One of my first days on the set, I passed Kirsten Dunst and Tom Cruise. You can't beat that. You feel like you're a part of the business, as opposed to 'Jake 2.0,' where we were working out of a warehouse in another country. Having your picture up on the side of Paramount, it's not bad."

Birthplace: Fresno, Calif., on Aug. 14, making him a Leo.

Family matters: Married his "Popular" co-star Anel Lopez in January, 2000. They have two children, a 3-year-old and a baby born in 2004.

Film cred: Made his debut in Danny Boyle's "A Life Less Ordinary"; also appeared in "The Other Side of Heaven."

TV cred: Was a lead in The WB's "Popular," Showtime's "Odyssey 5" and UPN's "Jake 2.0." Recurring roles in "Felicity" and "Party of Five." Guest-starred in "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation," "Without a Trace," "Boomtown" (with current co-star Neal McDonough) and "Buffy the Vampire Slayer."

"NASCAR Racing" Sunday, Oct. 3 (NBC, 2 p.m. ET): As the "Chase for the Championship" enters its third week, can anyone chase down restrictor-plate king Dale Earnhardt Jr. in the EA Sports 500 at Talladega Superspeedway in Alabama? Earnhardt has four wins and two second-place finishes in his last six races here. One of those rare misses was in April, when Jeff Gordon earned his third career victory at Talladega by virtue of leading when the race ended under caution.

"NFL Football" Monday, Oct. 4 (ABC, 9 p.m. ET): The Kansas City Chiefs' high-powered offense meets the great defense of the Baltimore Ravens in this week's Monday nighter. Priest Holmes is known for carrying K.C.'s attack, but the former Raven has also led NFL running backs in receiving yards the past three seasons. For Baltimore, "Prime Time" is back in prime time, as Deion Sanders gets to show the nation how much a 37-year-old helps a defense that includes four Pro Bowlers.

"College Football" Thursday, Oct. 7 (ESPN, 7:30 p.m. ET): A cupcake first four opponents should position Virginia with an unbeaten record as they play their most challenging game to date against ACC rival Clemson. The Cavs' plethora of freshman starters the past two seasons now form an experienced, tight group, especially along an offensive line that provides holes for tailback Wali Lundy and time for QB Marques Hagans. The Tigers sport perhaps the ACC's most physically talented quarterback in Charlie Whitehurst.

Trent Green leads the Kansas City Chiefs against the Baltimore Ravens Monday on ABC.

Viewers desperate for quality should check out 'Housewives'

By John Crook
© Zap2it

ABC's "Desperate Housewives," the season's most promising new series (premiering Sunday, Oct. 3), starts off with a bang.

It's a gunshot that snuffs out the life of Mary Alice Young (Brenda Strong), a perfectly groomed suburban housewife whose seemingly ideal life turns out to have been a masterfully applied gloss over some painful and embarrassing secrets.

Mary Alice's suicide rocks her immaculately manicured neighborhood and stuns her circle of close friends: Susan Mayer (Teri Hatcher), a divorced single mom hungry for a little romance; Lynette Scavo (Felicity Huffman), formerly a top business executive, now a frazzled wife and mom to four young kids tap-dancing on her last nerve; Bree Van De Camp (Marcia Cross), a Martha Stewart on crack whose obsessive perfection is driving her husband (Steven Culp) over the edge; and Gabrielle Solis (Eva Longoria), an ex-model who is cheating on her wealthy husband (Ricardo Antonio Chavira) with John (Jesse Metcalfe), her teenage garden-er.

And don't get them started on Edie Britt (Nicolette Sheridan), the man-eating divorcee who lives just up the street from these ladies.

From that brief synopsis - which, by the way, barely skims the surface of even the first episode - "Housewives" sounds like an over-the-top soap opera. But as created by Marc Cherry ("The Golden Girls"), this new series dances confidently if improbably from one genre to another. First and foremost, it's wickedly funny, with perhaps the highest laugh ratio per hour anywhere on this fall's network TV schedule.

Yet there are also undercurrents of poignancy, mystery, suspense, romantic comedy - you name it, you'll probably find it in "Housewives," although somehow it works, thanks both to the deft writing and dazzling performances of its ensemble cast.

"I call it 'American Beauty' meets 'Six Feet Under' meets 'The Stepford Wives,'" says Huffman, the "Sports Night" alumna whose exhausted mom Lynette is likely to become one of the show's real breakout characters.

"We're pretty strict (as a society) about how to be a mother, especially these days," says the actress, who has two preschool children with her husband, actor William H. Macy ("Fargo").

There's the stay-at-home mom, where it's incredibly fulfilling and it's exactly what you've always wanted to do with your life and you've never wanted to do anything else. And then there's the career mom, which at this point seems to be looked down upon a little.

"But no one talks about the woman who chose to stay home with her kids and is now going crazy, and has lost her sense of self and just doesn't love it all the time, finds it overwhelming at least some of the time. There is nothing harder than raising kids. A corporate job is a cakewalk by comparison, and I love giving a voice to the magnitude and the difficulty of motherhood."

Marcia Cross, who reached giddy heights of black comedy as the deranged Kimberly Shaw Mancini on "Melrose Place," says that out-of-control character was a walk on the beach compared to the juggling act she is called upon to do as the hyper-perfectionist Bree in "Housewives."

"This is the hardest part I've ever played," she sighs. "Even within the context of the show, Bree is one of the more heightened characters, and there are days when I walk away thinking, 'Oh, my god, was that too much?' Yet if I relax it down, it's not really her. To be safe is wrong for Bree, so I have to walk that dangerous line.

"I love giving a voice to the magnitude and the difficulty of motherhood," Felicity Huffman says of her role as Lynette Scavo in "Desperate Housewives," premiering Sunday on ABC.

"I lie in bed tossing and turning, going, 'You're not doing this' or 'You're not doing that' (with the character), because this thing is kind of its own genre. Sometimes it touches the depths of your soul, while other times it's almost blatantly high comedy, still others black comedy. It's a little more like real life, only very heightened."

Cherry says the original seed for this new series originally took root a few years ago, while he and his mother were watching TV coverage of the trial of Andrea Yates, the Texas mother who drowned her children in the bathtub.

Q What can you tell me about Peggy McCay of NBC's "Days of our Lives"? She and I were neighbors as teens in New York, back in the good old days (I am 82). -Mary Kennedy, Manchester, N.H.

A McCay, who turns 74 in November, can look back on a career that started back in television's Golden Age. A native Manhattanite, she landed her first TV role just two weeks after graduating from Columbia University.

After touring in a Tennessee Williams play, McCay embarked on an extensive and varied career encompassing multiple soaps ("Love of Life," "General Hospital") and prime-time series ("Gibbsville," "The Lazarus Syndrome"), a long list of TV movies and miniseries, as well as roughly 100 guest appearances, including recurring roles in "Lou Grant" and "St. Elsewhere."

McCay joined "Days of our Lives" in her current role as Caroline Brady in the early 1980s, and she won an Emmy in 1991 for a guest appearance in "The Trials of Rosie O'Neill." She has a featured role as Aunt Margaret in "I am not making up this life - The Irish Vampire Goes West," a horror fantasy due in theaters next year.

Q A friend tells me Kelly Clarkson sings in the movie "The Princess Diaries 2: Royal Engagement." What does she sing? -Eleanor Flower, Ottawa, Ill.

A The film's soundtrack includes Clarkson singing "Breakaway," a song written by Matthew Gerrard, Bridget Benenante and Avril Lavigne.

Q The guy who plays Cooper in "The Days" is hot! Has he done anything else? -S.S., Rancho Cordova, Calif.

A Evan Peters, 17, of St. Louis, worked as a model before landing his first film role ("Clipping Adam") during his first week in Hollywood. He also was in the summer movie comedy "Sleepover" and has had a recurring role on the Disney Channel series "Phil of the Future."

'Passions' has produced life-changing moments for Westmore

McKenzie Westmore

By Paulette Cohn
© Zap2it

Little did McKenzie Westmore suspect what was in store for her when she joined the cast of "Passions." The first life-altering event was meeting Keith Volpone, aka Seven of the band Seven and the Sun, on the set one day when he was there to perform. These days the couple, married in Las Vegas in 2002, is making beautiful music together - literally.

"Since I have been going to Nashville for Fanfare, I just fell in love with the whole world of country music," explains Westmore, whose hubby is helping her with a compact disc. "I always liked country music, but when I got immersed in the people and what the music stands for, I loved it even more."

Westmore's album will be finished next year, at which time she will begin singing in clubs so her fans can see her perform live. In the meantime, she's enjoying life as Sheridan, who has finally reconnected with Luis. Westmore says fans can look forward to romance, romance and more romance - and she is happy to provide it. In fact, she is happy to play anything that head writer James E. Reilly invents.

"I have grown so much because of this show in the last five years," she admits. "Whereas at first, I would have been too timid to do some things, now I am like a wild horse at the gate ready to go. Whether or not he knows this, Jim Reilly changed my life so much for the better. I have so much more confidence. My acting is getting better every day because he gives us great stuff to work with."

In other daytime news, fans of Brad Maule, who played Dr. Tony Jones on "General Hospital," can tune in to "The Young and the Restless," starting Wednesday, Oct. 6, to catch Maule as the Rev. Palmer.

Dear Paulette: My mother told me that she read that Jill Abbott on "Y&R" is pregnant in real life. I haven't seen a change in her appearance. What do you know? -Rita from Del Rio.

Dear Reader: A spokesperson for Jess Walton, the actress who plays Jill, says she definitely is not in the family way.

Sunday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 4-CBS
Cold Case

The mystery series that blends the present and the past starts its second year with "Factory Girls," putting Lily (Kathryn Morris) and her Philadelphia police comrades on a World War II-era murder case. A reunion of factory workers from that period sparks new interest in the long-unsolved death; guest stars include Shirley Knight, Lois Smith ("Twister"), Joseph Campanella and Rance Howard.

7 p.m. on 38-WB
Charmed

While seeking missing witches, Paige (Rose McGowan) crosses paths with pirate captain Black Jack Cutting (guest star Harve Presnell, "The Pretender") in the new episode "Charmed!" Fated to age without dying, he shifts that curse to Paige, bringing Piper and Phoebe (Holly Marie Combs, Alyssa Milano) to the attempted rescue. A federal agent (guest star Kerr Smith, "Dawson's Creek") investigates the Halliwells.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC
American Dreams

Daphne Zuniga ("Melrose Place") and Milo Ventimiglia ("Gilmore Girls") join the series in recurring roles as a Playboy bunny and her son, who become the Pryors' neighbors, in the new episode "Charade." Anti-war activist Meg (Brittany Snow) considers a nun's advice to direct a production of "Henry V." Nicole Richie ("The Simple Life") guest stars as a member of the '60s girl group The Exciters ("Tell Him").

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

Not all is well in a suburban neighborhood where the female residents seem to have it made ... as suicidal Mary Alice Young (Brenda Strong) knows firsthand, since she observes the others from the afterlife as this offbeat drama series debuts. Teri Hatcher, Marcia Cross ("Melrose Place"), Felicity Huffman and Nicolette Sheridan ("Knots Landing") play other dwellers whose secrets are exposed via the deceased woman's view.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Suburban Madness

Clara Harris (Elizabeth Pena) wasn't happy to learn her fellow-orthodontist husband (Brett Cullen) was involved with their receptionist (Kate Greenhouse), so she took care of the situation her own way: by running over him with her car three times. In this new, fact-inspired TV-movie Sela Ward ("Once and Again") plays the private investigator who helped Clara determine the truth about her philandering husband.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Jack & Bobby

Grace (Christine Lahti) clashes with an Arab-American student (guest star Lina Pate) over the allegedly religion-slanted nature of Grace's lectures, leading to a boycott of her classes by others, in the new episode "A Man of Faith." Bobby (Logan Lerman) has his own questions about religion for Grace while helping a peer about to have his bar mitzvah. Jack (Matt Long) comes to Marcus' (Edwin Hodge) aid.

9 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Boston Legal

Producer David E. Kelly's latest drama springs from his previous series "The Practice." James Spader continues his Emmy-winning role as Alan Shore, the ever-unpredictable attorney working for Denny Crane's (fellow Emmy-winner William Shatner) firm as this show premieres with "Head Cases." A staffing surprise means a longer stay, and conflict with Shore, for visiting associate Brad Chase (series co-star Mark Valley).

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Crossing Jordan

Although he is the prime suspect in his wealthy neighbor's murder, an agoraphobic man (guest star Jeremy London, "Party of Five") becomes a potential romantic interest for Jordan (Jill Hennessy) in the new episode "Out of Sight." Woody (Jerry O'Connell) is bent on proving the man's guilt. Macy and Lily (Miguel Ferrer, Kathryn Hahn) clash with Homeland Security officials over a suicide.

TV Jumble

TV JUMBLE

by David L. Hoyt

Use the clues to help unscramble the four jumbles; one letter to each square, to form four words.

FILFSC Clue: Huxtable and Clavin

MLAYF Clue: Winslows' group

TREFSE Clue: Strange sitcom relative

HIGTNOT Clue: J's time

Bonus Clue: This spinoff aired on NBC for nine years.

Then arrange the circled letters to form the bonus answer, as suggested by the above cartoon and bonus clue.

Bonus: WHEEL OF FORTUNE

7 p.m. on 35-WB

7th Heaven

A pregnant girl (guest star Amanda Fuller) seeks Eric's (Stephen Collins) help in finding a family for her forthcoming baby in the new episode "Bad Boys, Bad Boys, Whatcha Gonna Do." She then changes her mind, prompting Eric to seek the baby's father, Simon (David Gallagher), encounters the brother of the boy whose death he caused. Singer Aaron Carter continues his guest-star role as Ruthie's (Mackenzie Rosman) beau.

7 p.m. on 49-PAX

Model Citizens

Sure they're beautiful, but they're also helpful. Five models leave the fashion runway to travel across the United States and give everyday people a hand in the premiere of this unscripted series. Larissa Meek, who knows something about ordinary folks from her stint on "Average Joe: Hawaii," is the host who narrates the exploits of the good-looking do-gooders as they get five days to complete each of their missions.

8 p.m. on 35-WB

Everwood

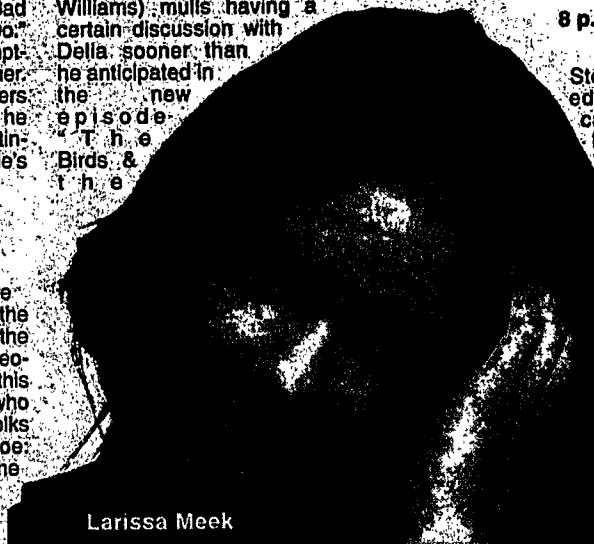

After Della (Vivien Cardone) finds a very personal item belonging to Nina (Stephanie Niznik), Andy (Treat Williams) mulls having a certain discussion with Della: sooner than he anticipated in the new episode "The Birds & The Bees."

Batteries." Ephram (Gregory Smith) struggles to compose a love letter to Amy (Emily VanCamp), who tries to bring popularity to Hannah (Sarah Drew).

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Las Vegas

Stolen lobsters intended for a wedding cause plenty of headaches for Montecito staff members in the new episode "Catch of the Day." While Sam (Vanessa Marcil) seeks replacements, Danny and Mike (Josh Duhamel, James Lesure) search for the thieves. Delinda (Molly Sims) is the object of a dying ex-boyfriend's (guest star Geoff Stults) last wish. Singer Michael Buble guest stars as himself.

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX MLB Baseball

Six months after its first one, Major League Baseball celebrates another opening day to begin the postseason. Tonight's wild-card game is actually the third one of the day; ESPN aired two Division Series openers in the afternoon. Following the best-of-five first round, Fox has exclusive coverage of the League Championship Series (beginning Oct. 12) and the World Series, which is scheduled to start Oct. 23.

7 p.m. on 38-WB Gilmore Girls

Lorelai and Luke's (Lauren Graham, Scott Patterson) romance becomes generally known — although no one seems to care all that much about it at first — in the new episode "Written in the Stars." Rory (Alexis Bledel) clashes with a wealthy student (guest star Matt Czuchy) who treated her friend (guest star Wayne Wilcox) rudely. Paris (Liza Weil) stages a wake for her late love Asher.

7 p.m. on 49-PAX Second Verdict

"In the Jury Room" broke ground over the summer as the first weekly series to present deliberations among jurors. This unscripted show follows suit as it premieres, with a panel of 12 people presented with the testimony and legal arguments from a videotaped case. Not knowing what the verdict was in that trial, they must pass their own judgment, using the same evidence. Rob Nelson is the host.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC George Lopez

Carmen (Masiela Lusha) gives her room an extreme makeover without consulting George and Angie (George Lopez, Constance Marie) first in the new episode "Landlord Almighty." George decides to let Carmen have her way — if she'll pay him rent. Former "Murphy Brown" co-star Joe Regalbuto directed the story.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC on 26-ABC on 13-ABC on 19-PBS on 4-CBS

Vice Presidential Debate
Memories of the 1988 Dan Quayle-Lloyd Bentsen debate ("Senator, you're no Jack Kennedy") may be stirred by the showdown between Vice President Dick Cheney and Sen. John Edwards, staged at Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland. The candidates' differing backgrounds should make the event, also to be shown by other networks, quite interesting.

8 p.m. on 38-WB One Tree Hill

Despite the fact they're already married, Nathan and Haley (James Lafferty, Bethany Joy Lenz) are feted at belated bachelor and bachelorette parties in the new episode "Near Wild Heaven." Lucas (Chad Michael Murray) is indecisive about visiting hospitalized Dan (Paul Johansson). Nathan goes to work for Keith (Craig Sheffer).

8 p.m. on 54-UPN Veronica Mars

A classmate (guest star Bobby Edner) gets help from Veronica and Wallace (Kristen Bell, Percy Daggs III) in seeking his long-missing father in the new episode "Meet John Smith." A guidance counselor (guest star Paula Marshall) seeks Keith's (Enrico Colantoni) input on Veronica. Duncan (Teddy Dunn) has a difficult time as the anniversary of his sister's murder nears.

8 p.m. and HALL Movie: Frankenstein

The first of two new TV projects inspired by Mary Shelley's classic thriller and airing within a week of each other, this version is the most traditional. Alec Newman plays the doctor who creates a synthetic man (Luke Goss), potentially helping science but harming others. The impressive cast also includes William Hurt, Donald Sutherland and Julie Delpy ("Before Sunrise"); Part 2 of the miniseries airs Wednesday.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

That '70s Show

Realizing she has an empty nest, Kitty (Debra Jo Rupp) turns her attention to self-improvement in the new episode "It's Only Rock and Roll." She tries to learn the art of Zen, but a wobbly Buddha statue threatens to foil her. Hyde (Darin' Masterson) has an unfortunate first day on his new job. Fez (Wilmer Valderrama) benefits from Kelso's (Ashton Kutcher) overhaul of his own image.

Lost

While the marshal's (guest star Fred-eric Lane) life is in peril, Jack and Hurley (Matthew Fox, Jorge Garcia) are surprised — and concerned — by what they learn about Kate (Evangeline Lilly) in the new episode "Tabula Rasa." Kate and others debate telling what they've found on the island. Michael (Harold Perrineau) worries about the new friendship between Locke and Walt (Terry O'Quinn, Malcolm David Kelley).

7 p.m. on 38-WB

Smallville

A shy student (guest star Brianna Lynn Brown) blossoms under the influences of plastic surgery and kryptonite in the new episode "Facade." Anyone she kisses ends up in harm's way — and Lana (Kristin Kreuk) is next on her list. Lana and Jason (Jensen Ackles) struggle to keep their romance a secret from Clark (Tom Welling).

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Hawaii

Their accidental discovery of explosives clues Gains and Edwards (Eric Balfour, Ivan Sergei) into an intended bank robbery in "Underground." The police detectives assume aliases to get the goods on the criminals from the inside. Harrison and Declan (Michael Biehn, Sharif Atkins) stake out a birthday party in a bid to capture the guest of honor's father, a fugitive mobster.

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Quintuplets

Bob (Andy Richter) enlists Patton (Ryan Pinkston) in a bid to please a client in the new episode "Working It." Patton pretends to be younger to play with the client's son, but the ruse backfires when Patton becomes enamored of their baby sitter. Parker and Pearce (Jake McDorman, Johnny Lewis) try to date Alayna (guest star Alice Greczyn) simultaneously. Penny (April Matson) lands a job at Paige's (Sarah Wright) restaurant.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

The Mountain

Colin Dowling (Mitch Pileggi) enrages the Carver family on several counts in the new episode "On the Beach." Not only is he stealing workers from them, he assumes leadership of a festival initiated by the late David Carver Sr. Will and the younger David (Anson Mount, Oliver Hudson) respond by developing a rival festival. Max (Elizabeth Bogush) wants to get even for being stood up by David.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

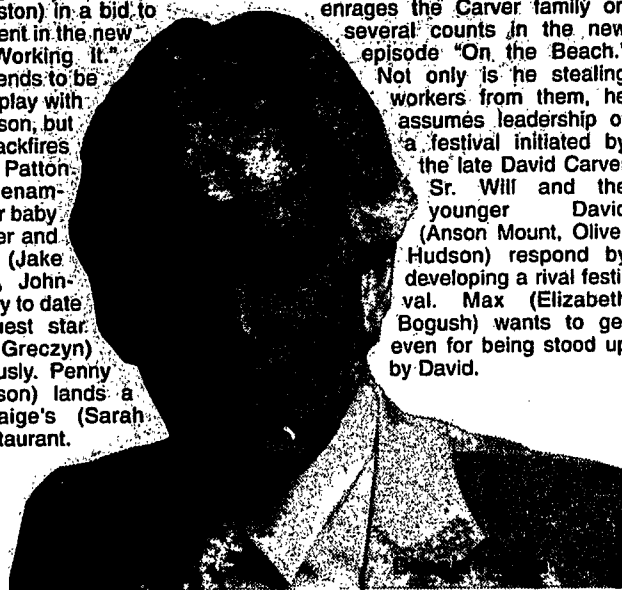

Kevin Hill

Kevin (Taye Diggs) takes the case of a rock star (guest star Gina Gershon) who may lose custody of her daughter in the new episode "The Good Life." Dismayed to learn she's as unfit a mother as she is alleged to be, Kevin debates how — and whether — to defend her. Dame (Jon Seda) tries to put Kevin back on the social fast track, but Kevin is mainly concerned about baby Sarah speaking her first words.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

Suicidal leaps by two college students clue Fontana and Green (Dennis Farina, Jesse L. Martin) into a drug-testing program conducted by a prominent pharmaceutical manufacturer in the new episode "Coming Down Hard." McCoy (Sam Waterston) sets out to prosecute the company's chief on second-degree-murder charges, but for him to do so successfully, the judge in the case must agree to admit certain clinical information.

Movie: Beethoven's 2nd

In the slobbery 1993 sequel to the previous year's "Beethoven," the lovable Saint Bernard from the first film has found the love of his life: a female Saint Bernard named Missy. To their dismay, the two dogs are kept apart by Missy's owner (Debi Mazar), who is using Missy in an attempt to get money from her ex-husband. Charles Grodin and Bonnie Hunt also star.

7:30 p.m. on 38-WB
Drew Carey's Green Screen Show

TV comedy might have seemed to fit some of its boundaries with "The Drew Carey Show," but Carey tries to expand the genre even further as he launches this new show. It applies elements of his other previous series, "Whose Line Is It Anyway?" as the studio audience throws out suggestions for skits. Carey and his ensemble's other players then act out the ideas against a "green screen" that can place them in any setting.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Will & Grace

A stranger (guest star Stephen Tobolowsky) encountered in the apartment-building elevator complicates things for Will and Grace (Eric McCormack, Debra Messing) in the new episode "Company." At a dinner hosted by Grace, Will responds to a charge of being too nice by making unflattering comments about their new acquaintance.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Life as we know it

The novel "Doing It," by Melvin Burgess, is the source of this American drama series about three teenage boys (played by Sean Faris, Jon Foster and Chris Lowell) on the verge of becoming men. Each has distinct outlooks on, and relations with, the opposite sex. The premiere episode also introduces Kelly Osbourne, D.B. Sweeney and Lisa Dav as series regulars.

Friday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Complex: Malibu

The remaining couples face their moment of truth in the unscripted series' season finale, as literal prices are placed on the handiwork they've exhibited in renovating units of a California apartment complex. The payoff will be big for the couple whose efforts yield the biggest paycheck — since they'll also be entitled to the money paid for the other units. Tyler Harcott is the host.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC

8 Simple Rules

Cate's (Katey Sagal) kids have differing reactions to her new job in the new episode "School Nurse." Bridget and Kerry (Kaley Cuoco, Amy Davidson) fear she wants to keep closer tabs on them, while Rory (Martin Spanjers) sees her as his possible savior. Cate inadvertently lets many others know about a very personal encounter Kerry had in Europe. Adam Arkin guest stars.

7 p.m. on 38-WB

What I Like About You

Ben (guest star David de Latour) lands a music job on the same night intended for Val's (Jennie Garth) bachelorette party — posing a big dilemma for Holly (Amanda Bynes) — in the new episode "God Help the Mister." When Holly tries to shift the party's date, an angry Val demotes her from being maid of honor. Tamara Gray ("American Idol") guest stars as Gary's (Wesley Jonathan) newest romantic target.

7 p.m. on 54-UPN

Star Trek: Enterprise

Archer (Scott Bakula) has managed to destroy the Xindi superweapon, but he pays a price — by finding himself a prisoner of aliens dressed like Nazis in the 1940s — as the sci-fi adventure begins its fourth season with "Storm Front." Guest stars Golden Brooks ("Girlfriends"), Steven R. Schirripa ("The Sopranos") and Joe Maruzzo play resistance fighters Archer joins after he escapes from his captors.

7 p.m. on BRAV

Movie: Clear and Present Danger

Harrison Ford reprises the role of Jack Ryan, a CIA agent who becomes entangled in political double-dealing when he is unexpectedly called in to replace the agency's chief (James Earl Jones). Fast-paced action, a sly script and Ford's admirable performance make this 1994 adaptation of a Tom Clancy novel a real audience pleaser. Willem Dafoe and Anne Archer also star.

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Hope Floats

After learning — on national television — that her husband is cheating, a former small-town beauty queen (Sandra Bullock) takes herself and her daughter home to Texas. Back in her hometown, her past glories are overshadowed by her recent humiliation; she reunites with an old boyfriend (Harry Connick Jr.) and tries to re-establish ties with her eccentric mom (Gena Rowlands). Kathy Najimy co-stars in this predictable but sweet 1998 romance.

7 p.m. and TNT

Movie: John Q

A father (Denzel Washington) takes desperate measures to save his son (Daniel E. Smith) in this 2002 movie directed by Nick Cassavetes ("The Astronaut's Wife"). When Michael (Smith) collapses from a heart defect, he is rushed to the hospital for an emergency transplant. John's (Washington) insurance won't pay for the procedure; he takes the surgeons hostage until they agree to operate. Kimberly Elise, James Woods and Anne Heche co-star.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC on 8-FOX

on 25-FOX on 26-ABC

on 4-CBS on 19-PBS

Presidential Debate

With one debate under their belts, President George W. Bush and Democratic challenger Sen. John Kerry now have an idea of what to expect from each other when they're face to face. That should play into their respective performances as they meet again, this time at Washington University in St. Louis. The U.S. economy and the war in Iraq are sure to remain major topics; other networks also will carry the debate.

8 p.m. on 38-WB

Reba

Van (Steve Howey) tries to get into the good graces of a gay sports agent (guest star Wendie Malick, "Just Shoot Me") by claiming Reba (Reba McEntire) also is gay in the new episode "Van's Agent." Unaware of the full situation, Reba invites the woman to dinner, then is urged by her relatives to maintain the ruse once everyone discovers what's up.

Saturday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Movie: Liar Liar

When a lying lawyer (Jim Carrey) is magically forced to tell the truth for 24 hours, thanks to his son's (Justin Cooper) birthday wish, major chaos ensues in both his personal and professional lives. Carrey's rubber face gets a hilarious workout as his character tries to fight the spell and form a fib. Maura Tierney ("NewsRadio," "ER") and Cary Elwes ("Twister") also star in this 1997 comedy.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: Dirty Dancing

Sixties hits, stirring original songs and eye-popping dance moves made this 1987 drama a hit with audiences. Jennifer Grey plays Baby, the naive teen who has the time of her life with hunky dance instructor Johnny (Patrick Swayze) at a resort in the Catskills. Cynthia Rhodes, Jack West-on and a pre-"Law & Order" Jerry Orbach also star.

7 p.m. on HBO

Movie: Bad Boys II

Prompted by the first film's box-office staying power and cable life, this lengthy yet sufficiently explosive 2003 action sequel from producer Jerry Bruckheimer reunites Will Smith and Martin Lawrence as Miami police partners. They track the source of a deadly drug that has sparked a battle among the city's underground factions. The Smith character also gets involved with Lawrence's sister (Gabrielle Union).

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

A troubled youngster, who used the Internet to spell out his intentions to harm his sister, is found to have been sexually abused in "Sick." Seeking his assailant, Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) are led to a toy-company tycoon who displays lots of affinity for children. Cindy Williams guest stars as the grand-mother of another possible victim.
